

Local man linked to bank heists

By MARCY RAGUCCI
Staff Writer

NORTH ANDOVER/WILMINGTON - Joseph Costello, 26, of 52 Lawrence Drive, Lowell was arrested at 12:50 p.m. Monday at his father's Cottage Street home in Wilmington. Officers from North Andover presented an arrest warrant and were assisted in the investigation by Chelmsford, Wilmington and Salem, N.H. police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Costello, an Afghanistan war veteran, allegedly tried to rob a Citizens Bank branch in a Stop and Shop grocery store in North Andover on Saturday. Costello allegedly told a bank teller that he had explosives in the bank but fled without getting any money. His threat prompted emergency responders to evacuate the store, causing a disruption of business in the building for about an hour before police and fire crews determined there were no explosives on the premises. Costello is also a suspect in other similar crimes with an alleged robbery of a Citizen's bank branch in the Shaw's off Rt. 28 in Salem, NH, and a Citizen's bank branch in a Stop and Shop in Chelmsford.

According to Detective Dan Cronin with the North Andover Police department for 22 years, the bank teller told Costello to leave the store after Costello presented the note demanding money.

"As I said to the Eagle Tribune, that was an individual decision to make. I wouldn't encourage anyone to do what he did, but that was the choice he made,"

Honoring veterans at home and soldiers at war

WILMINGTON - Firefighters in town sported sharp red polo shirts Friday as they join the Red Shirt Fridays movement supporting veterans and active duty soldiers. The new uniforms, designed by Fred Ryan, came as part of a union initiative to simultaneously offer an outward sign of support while also raising funds for Local Heroes.

The Crier visited the Public Safety Building on a busy Friday morning, bringing a donation from Donna's Donuts, to talk about the initiative and its importance while the shift washed the equipment, responded both to medical calls and even a structure fire.

Fire Department Union President William Cavanaugh, a Navy veteran himself, told the Crier,

Fuel tanker overturns on highway

Mess snarls commute Tuesday morning

WOBURN - A collision on I-95 Monday night resulted in a gasoline tanker truck on its back, spewing its contents over the highway near the Mishawum Road highway ramps. A host of state and local emergency crews responded to the scene in East Woburn around 10 p.m. and the highway was shut down in both directions between the Route 93 intersection and the Main Street (Route 38) exit.

The Wilmington Fire Department sent Engine 2 to Woburn and covered the city from their central station from 10:45 P.M. to 7 A.M. Tuesday morning. According to Deputy Fire Chief John Brown, Wilmington crews responded to several calls in the city of Woburn while local firefighters were consumed with the tanker accident.

Crews worked to keep the tanker from catching fire while also trying to contain an estimated 8,000 gallons of fuel leaking from the overturned vehicle.

"It was a wild night," said Woburn Mayor Scott Galvin, fresh from a debriefing session with key city officials including police, fire, DPW, and the engineer's office. "It could have been a major disaster. All it could have taken was a spark."

While Joe's American Grille was close to closing for the night, some 70 guests from the abutting Hampton Inn had to be evacuated.

Galvin said a good number of the guests were with a senior group visiting the Boston area with those displaced being brought to a shelter area at Woburn Memorial High School.

The Woburn Medical Reserve Corps (MRC) assisted guests as they arrived at the high school, Galvin said, noting the guests were returned to the hotel sometime around 5 a.m.

Through the night, the bat-

WILMINGTON - Local Heroes was recently recognized by the New England Patriots Charitable Foundation when they received this year's Myra Kraft Community MVP Award and a grant of $25,000. That funding will certainly help their program, but to put it in perspective, postage costs alone have been averaging $40,000 a year. Fund raising still remains critical to their success. To that end, they have three fundraising events planned for the summer.

Among them is the First Annual Local Heroes Hot Rod show being held this Sunday, July 22, at the Knights of Columbus at 2:00 pm. Sponsored by AAA Tire

Haubner ride a success

By MELISSA HANSON
Crier Correspondent

WILMINGTON - The 4th annual Memorial Motorcycle Ride held in memory of Mark Haubner of Wilmington was held on July 7, 2012, and was a huge success. The Crier caught up with Mark's brother, Shawn Haubner, to talk about the event.

Around 25 riders joined the ride to honor Haubner who passed away in a motorcycle accident last year. The ride began at 10:15 a.m. after a breakfast of coffee and donuts. The ride first stopped at Haubner's gravesite at Wildwood Cemetery for a moment of silence. Riders proceeded to Lake Quannapowitt in Wakefield, a spot Haubner used to enjoy riding his motorcycle. One of the stops on the ride was at Honda North in Danvers, where Haubner was employed, and the participants were able to take a photo with a new granite bench placed there in memory of Mark. Shawn was able to take a few minutes to talk with Haubner's co-workers and managers at Honda North who said a few words about Haubner and what he meant to the company. The ride ended at a rock wall on Hampton Beach in New Hampshire that Haubner used to enjoy visiting.

"The weather was beautiful and the ride was a big success," says Shawn, who organizes the event every year.

After the ride participants, along with many friends and family members, gathered at the Haubner home for a cookout.

At the time of Mark's accident the Haubner family was unaware that he was registered as an organ donor. As a part of the Memorial Ride, Shawn and family raise money to donate to the New England Organ Bank. This year the group raised $1,100, their highest donation to date, and double what they family has raised in the past few years.

Mark owned a Kawasaki Ninja motorcycle that he put 18,000 miles on in just a few short years. He also owned multiple Toyota Corollas, all from 1985 or 1986. They were his favorite cars according to Shawn, "just one of those loud cars young kids like to mess around with."

The night of Haubner's death, his family was asked if they would be willing to donate his organs, and they were unaware that this was something he had already planned for. Haubner had registered as an organ donor when he received his license, and once gaining this knowledge, his family did not hesitate to donate. That night his liver was given to a patient in need, the next day both his kidneys were donated, his heart valves were given to patients in need, and both of Haubner's corneas were given to a patient in California. Doctors also saved Haubner's bone tissue, which the family was told could save the lives of 50 to 60 people.

"It was amazing," says Shawn who thinks the added success of this year's ride could be due to the fact that it was held on Mark's birthday.

Cronin told the Crier.

Cronin continued, "While he did not get any cash in North Andover, he did obtain cash from Salem, NH but had to abandon that when the dye pack went off. A few people via the news media and the Facebook posting were able to call in with the name of Joseph Costello"

The incident happened on Saturday, police received a tip on Sunday, and Costello was arrested on Monday.

When asked if North Andover has seen more of these problems recently, Cronin indicated that North Andover's proximity to Lawrence is a factor. Another bank robber was apprehended prior to the New Hampshire border a month ago.

FBI spokesman, Gregory Comcowich, confirmed that Costello was actually arrested by North Andover Police, and that it was a state not a federal arrest. "We obviously did help them out, it was a joint investigation, but it was a North Andover arrest warrant."

According to Carrie Kimball Monahan, spokesperson for District Attorney Blodgett's office, Costello appeared at Lawrence District Court on Tuesday before Judge Paul Yee who ordered Costello held without bail on the fugitive charge and set $100,000 cash bail on the attempted North Andover heist.

Monahan informed the Crier, "He is being held without bail on the fugitive complaint from NH. Even if he posts the $100,000 he won't go free because of a retainer New Hampshire has."

Costello's next court date is scheduled for August 13 for a pre-trial conference.

Harnden Tavern gets new walking trail as part of Eagle project

By AMANDA GELDHOF
Crier Correspondent

WILMINGTON - By the end of this week Harnden Tavern will be sporting a newly painted fence and a new walking trail leading to the Minutemen Field.

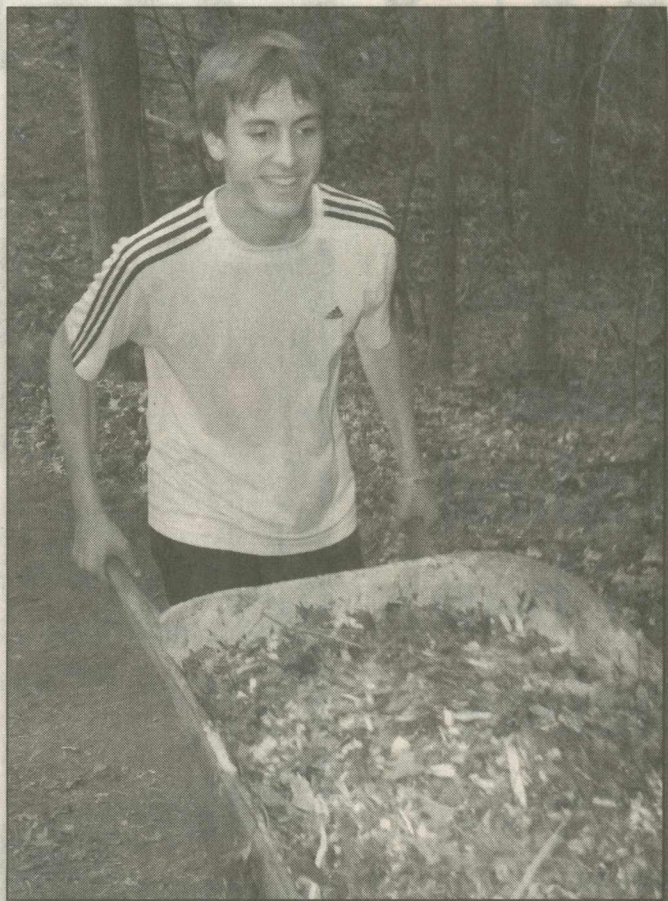

Adam Maienza, a local scout and student at WHS, will be managing the project as the final requirement to become an Eagle Scout. According to the Boy Scouts of America website, www.scouting.org, to become an Eagle Scout, Maienza first had to pass through 6 other scouting ranks, provide a list of references, earn at least 21 merit badges, hold a position of responsibility within the troop for six months and display leadership before he could take on an Eagle Scout project.

Once he began thinking about his required project, Maienza said he wanted to work on the Town Museum.

"I drive past the Harnden Tavern almost everyday, and I have noticed how the fence is in very poor condition. This got me thinking about how else I could make the Harnden Tavern more appealing to the residents of Wilmington," Maienza said.

Maienza said he consulted with Wilmington Town Museum Curator Terry McDermott last November on his Eagle Scout project. After speaking with McDermott, Maienza decided to not only paint the fence but also added the walking trail to his project.

"I am delighted about Adam's project," McDermott said. "This will offer a wonderful opportunity for kids to walk through the woods and think about what Wilmington was like before it was fully developed and inhabited!"

Despite McDermott's excitement about the project, she was not the only person Maienza had to convince. He also had to obtain permission from his unit leader and committee, the Boy Scout council or district, the Wilmington Historical Commission and Town Manager Michael Caira.

Maienza, other Scouts from his troop, and family and friends all began working on the project last weekend, only a few days after the Town's Fun on the Fourth activities. McDermott said she expects the project should be completed by this weekend.

For more information on joining Boy Scouts of America, visit www.scouting.org. To find a scouting troop near you, visit <https://beascout.scouting.org/>.

Friends, family rally behind Kelly Family

Family fundraiser planned for early August

By MELISSA HANSON
Crier Correspondent

WILMINGTON - The Kelly Family of Wilmington was struck with tragedy in March 2012 when Father Bob Kelly and son Brandon Kelly were significantly injured in accidents just a week apart.

Bob suffered a stroke that left him unable to work at his 15 year old father and son business, Advanced Sheet Metal Services, as he recovered. Just a week later Brandon was involved in a car accident that resulted in a partial leg amputation, also leaving him unable to work as a part of the company he co-lead with his father. Because of the severity of their injuries, Bob and Brandon were forced to forgo their family business, while wife and mother Monica Kelly tried to seek help with their recovery and to support the family financially.

"He was so disappointed he wouldn't be able to keep working on the business with his father," says Jennifer Earls, a high school friend of Brandon's.

In order to help the family afford the costs of living and their medical bills, Earls worked with Brandon's college roommate, Brenton Thornicraft, to create a fundraising event for the family. On Wednesday August 8th the Kelly Family Benefit will be held at the Wilmington Knights of Columbus from 5:00pm to 9:00pm. The event is open to the Wilmington community as well as the friends of the Wilmington community and is a free and family friendly event.

"I want it to be a positive event," says Earls, "Even if people don't know the family I really want people to feel like they can come."

The event will have "good food, good company, and good entertainment for a good cause" according to Earls. It will feature a DJ to play hits from the 60s, 70s, 80s, and 90s. There will be a salsa performance and brief beginner salsa lessons for all ages and dance levels taught by Earls and her dance group. The event will also feature a magician who will walk around performing card and magic tricks to engage and interact with the children and families. The local businesses of Wilmington have generously donated items to have a raffle, cash bar, and silent auction at the event. There will be food donated from the Olive Garden as well. The Kelly family will be present.

"It's really about coming together as a community," says Earls, "in a time of transition you have the entire community behind you."

Donations can be made online at www.kellyfamilyfun.com. Currently $2,775 has been raised from the website with an overall goal of $20,000.

The Wilmington community is welcome to invite others and donate in any way possible. Donations are still needed in the forms of monetary gifts either online or at the event in cash or check, raffle items like local business products or gift cards, silent auction items, and company matches to any amount of the money raised.

Another opportunity to help support the Kelly family has been made possible by Talia Khan, a high school friend of Brandon's and owner of 7th Wave Restaurant, located at 7 Tuna Warf, Rockport, MA. On August 12 from 11:30am to 8:00pm will be the "Kelly Family Fund Day" at the restaurant and 30% of the sales for the entire day will be donated to the Kelly family. Earls and Khan encourage the Wilmington community to attend both fundraising events.

"I've been so overwhelmed by the support of the Wilmington community so far," says Earls. For any questions about the events or donations, please contact Jennifer Earls at 978-790-3588 or jennifer.earls@gmail.com.

It's Your Money
WHEN A SPOUSE DIES

The death of a spouse is so devastating and traumatic. Then, amidst the grief and confusion, the widow or widower is faced with vital financial issues.

First issue, unfortunately, is the funeral. Check to see if there are prearranged or prepaid funeral plans. The VA may offer benefits if the deceased served in the military.

Working with the executor of the estate, contact your tax preparers and financial advisor; are there any actions that must be taken right away? Gather all the attendant paperwork: estate documents, financial accounts, bank statements. File a Social Security claim form. Is there an IRA to roll over? Contact the spouse's employer. Are there unpaid salary or commissions due, stock options, insurance, retirement plans or other benefits due? If your health insurance came through a spouse's employment, can you continue coverage through COBRA?

At these difficult times, you can count on our know-how and our caring concern at the

First Aid helps Fourth Fest

Dear Editor,
I would like to take a moment to say thank you to everyone that made the Wilmington Fire First Aid tent at the Fun on the Fourth Family Day a success. Over the last few years, we have noticed an increase in the need for medical assistance at the Family Day events. With assistance from Chief Bradbury, Lt Joe McMahon put together a team of volunteers to take shifts at the tent throughout the day. Along with Firefighters from the Wilmington Fire Department, Nancy McMahon and Leeann Otis also came down and assisted for the day. The First Aid station treated 15 people with a wide range of ailments. I would like to extend a sincere thanks to all that participated in one way or another, and also the Fourth of July Committee for allowing us the opportunity to be there for the people of Wilmington.

Boy Scouts make historical contribution

Dear Editor,
Earlier this month, Eagle Scout candidate Adam Maenza and Wilmington Boy Scout Troop 56 created a walking trail through the woods on the property of the Town Museum at the Harnden Tavern as part of Adam's Eagle Scout project. This is a fun trail through woods that were previously impassable. Visitors who choose to walk the trail will be amazed to find themselves wandering through several acres of forest that they may not have realized existed in Wilmington. The trail is well marked and intersects with other older trails that run through the woods, all on property owned by the Town of Wilmington. In addition to the trail, Adam and his troop also repaired and painted a wooden fence that borders the Tavern's property. It looks fantastic and is a great improvement.

All of this work took place over several HOT days in July. The Boy Scouts were tremendous, as always. Adam did a phenomenal job of organizing everyone and what looked like a HUGE project was completed in less than three days. And although this had the potential to be a very messy project, the boys did an excellent job of cleaning up after themselves and the property looks great! So, come on down to the Museum and check out this great addition to our property! The improved fence is visible as you drive onto the property and the trail is most easily found by climbing the stairs next to the Carriage House and looking for the trail entrance to the left.

The Town Museum and the Wilmington Historical Commission are very grateful to Adam Maenza and the Scout Troop 56 for their efforts on behalf of the Museum. We would also like to thank Steve Moore of Pro Climb Tree Removal who donated several truckloads of wood chips to this project.

Limbing up the sidewalks

To the Editor:

Those of us who walk or ride a bike really need to get organized and demand that something be done about the condition of our sidewalks. The busy main streets are the worst, with big branches hanging down from overhead, giant weeds and vines have grown across the sidewalks, and in general, the debris and overgrowth has made "getting around" a challenge.

So, last week I took matters into my own hands. With a clipper and bow saw I proceeded to cut back everything I could reach, moving along Rt.38, from my house all the way to Silver Lake. Clipping, ripping, tearing up, sawing away, tossing the accumulation over the guard rail or piling it along the center strip, in just under an hour I accomplished quite a bit.

Although voluntary, I'm not above accepting a check from the Town for my services. Just think of me as another consultant or outside contractor. Maybe a group of us concerned citizens could form a small business to continue my work and expand as needed. Gee, what should we call ourselves - Hummm ... how about The Sidewalker's Stalkers? Or, let's see, what about Out on a Limb? No, no I've got it, A Branch of Town Hall - yeah, I like that name the best.

What's in your wallet?

By SCOTT J. MULLOWNEY
Staff Columnist

Losing your wallet is a major inconvenience, especially when you realize it's missing just as you are about to leave for a trip to the casinos in Connecticut on Monday morning. My much-needed vacation was off to a rocky start when my wallet was nowhere to be found.

As time grew closer to my departure, my panic intensified. My wife was going about her business, packing her clothes, cleaning the kitchen, making sure our sons had enough food in the fridge to last until we returned. Meanwhile, I checked my usual wallet-stashing places: the top of the desk in the living room where I sometimes leave it at night, on my computer desk where I remove it from my back pocket because it jabs my rear end when I'm sitting at the computer chair trying to concentrate. There was no sign of my wallet.

For some reason on the morning of my trip I spontaneously cleared a months worth of junk mail and paperwork from the top of my desk (something I never do). My wallet must have been scooped up with the papers I threw away that morning. Unfortunately, I also just emptied the kitty litter which made digging through the garbage much less enjoyable. After rummaging through the trash barrels on the side of my house and sifting through the disgusting contents, I came up empty handed (except for some wet coffee grounds and a banana peel).

My wife was ready to leave for our trip. She noticed the tense look on my face. I had to confess.

"I lost my wallet," I said.

"Retrace your steps. When was the last time you had it?" she said.

"Saturday at the bank drive-thru. I checked the car and the driveway in case it fell on the ground," I said.

"Today is Monday. You must have had it after the bank," she said. "Think back to the last place you saw it." "The last time I had it was Saturday at the bank," I said.

"No, after that," my wife said.

"That's the last place I remember physically having it in my hand," I said.

"No it isn't. Think harder," she said.

This conversation was going nowhere. Just like my wallet.

I checked and doubled check every nook and cranny in the house. I tried to come up with theories on how my wallet disappeared. Maybe it fell out of my car. Maybe the cat decided to play hide-and-seek with it. Maybe an intruder stole it from my night table while I slept. Maybe our mischievous poltergeists are back. None of these scenarios made sense.

I tried my old stand-by prayer to St. Anthony, patron saint of lost items. I even promised to go to church every Sunday for real this time if my wallet miraculously appeared. My prayers fell on deaf ears.

I accepted the fact I had to leave the house without it. No driver's license. No ATM card. No credit cards for emergencies. No AAA card. No library card. No two-year old gift cards without any value left on them. My whole identity was inside the small folding black leather square that resided in my back pocket forever. Until now.

I had to use my passport for identification. It didn't feel as official as my driver's license but we had to get on the road. We had reservations for a two-night stay in Connecticut and we already lost the afternoon. I knew it was going to be harder to find my wallet the longer I was away from my house. Luckily I stashed my vacation money somewhere else (not the cookie jar).

I returned home from Connecticut and had to pack for the second half of my vacation week. I was leaving for a three-day trip to the White Mountains in New Hampshire. I searched again for my wallet in all the same places. I thought I would spend the rest of my life constantly wondering if my wallet would be found sitting in the junk drawer in the kitchen when I was looking for scotch tape, or in the dishwasher next to the juice glasses and cereal bowls, or in some other obscure place I would never think to look.

There was nothing I could do but move on. I would have to learn to live without my plastic cards until I came back from vacation. Then the fun would begin: calling all the credit card companies and other businesses to have replacement cards issued. I didn't have the time or energy to start placing the phone calls before I left, so I decided to try to enjoy my trip. With passport in hand as my only identification, I was a man without a wallet but not a man without a country.

Anticlimactic resolution: Returning home at the end of the week, with one weekend of vacation time left, I still had time to put off contacting all the businesses to issue replacement cards for the ones I lost. After being away for the week, I couldn't put off my yard work any longer. I rummaged through my bottom bureau drawer to find a pair of jeans to wear. I fumbled through a pile of old pants and sweatshirts and various articles of clothing I will probably never wear. And at the very bottom underneath it all was my wallet. It must have fallen out of my shirt pocket when I was packing for my trip at the beginning of the week. I breathed a sigh of relief. If I hadn't made yard work my priority I wouldn't have found it for quite some time. It was truly a miraculous discovery. And speaking of miracles, I need to contact Saint Anthony regarding the promise I made. Looks like I'm going to church on Sunday.

BOSTON- Senate Minority Leader Bruce Tarr (R-Gloucester) released the following statement Tuesday regarding the 5-1 passage of a habitual offender bill, also known as Melissa's Bill, that was just released from a sentencing conference committee, which Tarr served on:

"This evening the conference committee took decisive action to respond effectively to the threat to public safety posed by repeat violent offenders. The bill we have approved provides a careful balance between eliminating parole eligibility for violent criminals and ensuring that minimum mandatory sentences for drug offenders are appropriate.

Finally, the families of victims like Melissa Gosule and Officer Jack McGuire can be secure in the knowledge that their courage, passion and commitment have made a real impact on strengthening public safety in our state. Their tenacity in reliving tragedy each time they told the story of their loved ones has been inspirational and impactful.

Some highlights of the bill include:

•The prevention of parole eligibility for third time violent felons for certain crimes.

•The prevention of parole eligibility for felons serving multiple life sentences (two or more) based on separate incidents.

•Requiring the parole board to reach a 2/3 affirmative vote before a prisoner is granted parole while serving a single life sentence."

Vacation Bible School:

The Sky's the Limit!

TEWKSBURY - Looking for an extremely cost effective camp for all kids? Look no further than The Sky's the Limit! being held at Saint William's church, from July 30 - August 3, 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.

Although this is a religiously-based program, any youth interested in attending camp is welcome regardless of religious background, economic status, gender, age, sexual orientation, or physical challenge.

This camp is a high energy, fun camp where kids are grouped into small "crews" which travel to various stations together (preschool kids are separated from the elementary kids and remain in subseparate classrooms). Activities include outside active games, crafts, cooking, science and music which are designed to reinforce the Bible point of that day in a hands-on, fun way that will keep even 5th grade boys engaged.

Open to all, Vacation Bible School is where campers, aged three (toilet trained) through ten years old learn about Jesus and the Bible. Starting at age 11, older kids serve as counselors and youth leaders throughout the week. Past years' programs have been highly engaging for all ages. The cost is a low $30 for the first child and $25 for any siblings and is sponsored by the Tewksbury Congregational Church, St. William's, Tewksbury United Methodist Church and Tewksbury First Baptist Church. Registration forms can be found on the Tewksbury Congregational Church's website at Tewksburycc.org.

For more information, feel free to contact the TEVBS director, Laurie Meuse at (978) 658-5503 or ljmeuse@verizon.net.

11th Annual Walk of Hope to Benefit ALS

Lou Gehrig's Disease - Scheduled for September 8th

WAKEFIELD - The 11th annual Walk of Hope for ALS, a 3.5-mile walk around Lake Quannapowitt in Wakefield to benefit The Angel Fund, will be held on Saturday, September 8th 2012. The event begins with registration at 9 a.m. followed by the start of the walk at 11 a.m.

The Angel Fund is an independent, nonprofit organization dedicated to supporting Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis (ALS) research at the Cecil B. Day Laboratory for Neuromuscular Research at UMass Medical Center in Worcester. ALS, more commonly known as Lou Gehrig's Disease, is a progressive, always fatal neuromuscular disease which leads to muscle weakness and as it progresses, results in total paralysis and the inability to speak and swallow while the mind and senses remain intact.

Walkers of all abilities are encouraged to participate as individuals or as a team. To register as a walker or to register a team, log-on to The Angel Fund website at www.theangelfund.org or call the organization at 781-245-7070.

Donations to the Angel Fund can also be made online, or can be sent to The Angel Fund, 649 Main Street, Wakefield, MA 01880. All donations should be made payable to The Angel Fund. To assist its walkers, The Angel Fund has joined FirstGiving.com which enables them to create their own webpage to raise money online. Registered walkers can create their page at www.firstgiving.com/angelfund.

In addition to the walk around Lake Quannapowitt, the event includes children's activities and refreshments for all walkers.

There are several levels of corporate sponsorship for the Walk of Hope for ALS. Several local businesses have already pledged their support as sponsors of the Walk, including Major Sponsors the Law Office of Nigro, Pettepit and Lucas, and The J Group benefiting ALS research.

Information about sponsorship opportunities can also be obtained on the website, www.theangelfund.org, or by calling 781-245-7070.

The Angel Fund conducts other fund raising events throughout the year which, along with individual and corporate donations, have been beneficial in helping make significant strides in ALS research. For a list of upcoming events, including The Angel Fund Annual Gala on Saturday, October 13th, visit The Angel Fund website, www.theangelfund.org.

It's not too late to join the fun at Girl Scout Camp

EASTERN MA - This summer has been one of the warmest in recent years. Instead of staying inside with the air conditioner on, why not swim in a lake or swimming pool? There is still room for your girl or your family at Girl Scout camp. Work on swimming skills at one of our 13 camps as well as explore nature, create arts and crafts projects, climb rock walls, sail and make great friends.

Camp is a great way for girls to explore leadership, build skills, and develop a deep appreciation for nature. It's also a great way for families to bond without the distraction of technology. Girl Scout camp gives girls an opportunity to grow, explore, and have fun under the guidance of caring, trained adults.

Girl Scouts of Eastern Massachusetts offers 13 American Camp Association Accredited day and resident camps for girls ages 6-17, with special family camp weekends scheduled throughout the summer. Our camps are safe, fun, and affordable. With more than 20 different programs offered each week, there is something for everyone. Girls do not have to be a Girl Scout to attend our camps and free bus transportation is available for our day camps. For more information or to register for camp, visit www.hercamp.org or call (617) 350-8335.

Girl Scouts of Eastern Massachusetts serves more than 41,000 girls ages 5-17 and engages 18,000 adult volunteers in 178 communities across Eastern Massachusetts with the mission to build girls of courage, confidence, and character, who make the world a better place. All 13 camps owned and operated by the Girl Scouts of Eastern Massachusetts are ACA accredited.

Town Crier Film Series...

Haphazard in Rome

By CATHERINE FRANCIS
Town Crier Intern

Woody Allen was just a young boy when he started stand up comedy. Since then, he has starred, written, and directed many different films, including his 2011 Oscar winner Midnight in Paris. The film To Rome With Love continues his jaunt through Europe following four different stories. The first one is about a young boy who recently graduated from college to be an architect. He contemplates whether he should stay with his girlfriend or risk that happiness with her best friend. Another story has to do with the paparazzi and how a man has no idea why they are following him. Next is a newlywed couple lost in Rome. Finally, the father of a bride-to-be finds inspiration through a man singing in the shower.

Although Allen has written and directed many films, To Rome With Love was a little below the bar of greatness for Allen. He was only writing one story for Rome, and so he wrote four miniature ones. Yet, the four stories were just that—four completely different tales and structured haphazardly. For example, the newlywed story happens in the course of a day, while the others over varying periods of time. The movies He's Just Not That Into You and Valentine's Day offering intertwining story arcs. That was not the case for To Rome With Love.

The American stars, Alec Baldwin, Jesse Eisenberg, Ellen Page, and Woody Allen, each gave a mediocre performance. Each of the characters played their stereotype; no one went beyond what was expected of them. Baldwin cracked a few jokes, Eisenberg played his awkward self, and Page played a sarcastic, bold woman. There was no challenge to make their characters grow and change for the better. However, the Italian stars, although I was reading the subtitles at the bottom of the screen, performed with excellence.

At the age of 76, Woody Allen has been through it all—different characters, different styles of screenplay writing, and of course, different techniques for directing. With the number of years spent in the business known as "Hollywood," Allen has mellowed out. And despite all the criticism I gave To Rome With Love, a glass of wine, close friends, and good laughs will bring Woody Allen's film the recognition it deserves—at home rather than the theater.

Chamber of Commerce endorses Tisei

Claims Tierney voted against small business 81% of the time

LYNNFIELD— The United States Chamber of Commerce endorsed Richard Tisei for the 6th Congressional District race this week, snubbing current Rep. John Tierney.

According to a Tisei campaign release, the Chamber cited his support of free enterprise and pro-growth policies. In the legislature, Tisei consistently had one of the strongest voting records in support of job creators.

Tisei, a real estate broker and insurance agent, is a small business owner himself. He co-owns Northrup Associates Realtors in Lynnfield, MA, which has grown into one of the largest independent real estate firms on the North Shore.

"As a small business owner, I am proud to have the Chamber of Commerce support my candidacy," said Tisei. "Americans need to get back to work, and its time for Congress to role up its sleeves and get started on the real solutions we need to jumpstart our economy. I look forward to working with the Chamber to support tax reform and address burdensome regulations that are killing jobs in Massachusetts and across the country."

"Unlike John Tierney, I know that it is hardworking small business owners who are expanding our economy, creating new jobs and supporting the American dream. Now is the time to repeal the 2.3% excise tax on medical devices that would do irreparable harm to growing businesses on the North Shore, pass common-sense tax relief to help businesses grow, and end the intrusive practices of the Federal government that are damaging the fishing industry."

"At no other time in our nation's history has it been more critical that Members of Congress provide leadership that protects and advances the interests of the business community," said Tom Donahue, President of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. "We believe Richard's election to the U.S. House of Representatives will help produce sustained economic growth, help create more jobs and get our country back on track."

In the Chamber's most recent review of Congressional votes, John Tierney voted against small business 81% of the time, continuing his lengthy record of opposing the job creators, who are the engine of our economy.

Always something great at the Farmers Market

I was very happy to see the Wilmington High School Choral and Theater Support Group at the Farmers Market this week. They were raffling off some tickets to the North Shore Music Theater and accepting donations. Harnden Tavern was also there with some educational materials about our town. It's always nice to see Wilmington groups benefit from something like the Farmers Market.

Welcome Home Atos!

A Thumbs Up to the Veteran's Committee in Wilmington for the welcome home sign for Atos, the military working dog who recently retired from service in Iraq and Afghanistan. These dogs have saved countless lives in their service to our country. It is nice to see them recognized.

OBITUARY

William M. Ausiello

Worked for Winchester Hospital

MALDEN - William M. Ausiello, "Billy", age 61, of Malden, died unexpectedly on July 17, 2012, at the Mass. General Hospital in Boston.

Billy was born on June 25, 1951 in Chelsea, MA, he was the beloved son of the late Alfred and Eleanor (Higgins) Ausiello. Billy was raised and educated in Chelsea and was a graduate of Chelsea High School.

Billy was employed in the Maintenance Department of the Winchester Hospital for the past 15 years; he was dedicated, friendly, and well-liked by his fellow employees and staff at the hospital.

Billy loved animals and also sports. He was an avid Red Sox fan; never missing a game.

Billy will be fondly remembered as a good natured, easy going person always willing to help someone in need. He loved his family and enjoyed getting together for their family holidays and celebrations. He will be truly missed.

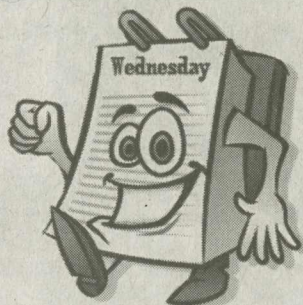

Billy was the dear brother of Alfred Ausiello and his wife Lucille of Tewksbury, formerly of Wilmington, Eleanor Buckley and her husband James of Wilmington, and John Ausiello and his companion Elaine Sun of St. Petersburg, FL, loving uncle of Laura Piscatelli and her husband John, Andrea Manning and her husband Stephen, Alfred Ausiello and his wife Maria, Jennifer Ausiello, Patrice Elia and her husband Michael, Deborah Rasmussen and her husband Mark, and great-uncle of Jaelyn, Jessica, Brian, Sean, Christopher, Nicholas, Matthew, Nicole, Erik, and Kirsten. Billy is also survived by many dear friends.

Family and friends will gather at the Nichols Funeral Home, Inc., 187 Middlesex Ave. (Rte.62), Wilmington on Friday, July 20th for Visitation from 9:00 - 10:30 a.m. followed by a Funeral Mass at St. Thomas of Villanova Church, 126 Middlesex Ave., Wilmington, at 11:00 a.m. Interment Lakeside Cemetery, Wakefield.

In lieu of flowers donations in Billy's memory may be made to the New England Organ Bank, 60 First Ave., Waltham, MA 02451-1106.

Make-A-Wish bike ride ends in Wilmington

Honors the home of the first wish recipient, Colleen O'Brien

Now in its 15th consecutive year, the Team Kate Bike Ride—an annual ride to benefit the Make a Wish organization is held in honor of Kate Smith, whose wish was to travel to Walt Disney World® Resort after being diagnosed with Hodgkin's Disease in 1995. As the Foundation celebrates its 25th year of granting wishes, the cycling team will ride through Massachusetts and Rhode Island in honor of both Kate and the first wish child, Colleen O'Brien, whose wish was granted by Make-A-Wish® Massachusetts and Rhode Island in 1987. This year's two-day event concluded Sunday afternoon, July 15th, in Wilmington, home of the first Massachusetts wish child, Colleen O'Brien. The Crier captured the cyclists pulling into the grounds behind Town Hall with Colleen's mother cheering them on.

Over the years, the Team Kate Bike Ride has ridden

Pat O'Brien of Wilmington and her family applauded the efforts and commitment of the riders who participated in a bicycle ride to benefit the Make-A-Wish Foundation. Pat's daughter, Colleen, was the first child in Massachusetts to receive a wish through the organization. (photo by Maureen Lamoureux-www.shootingstarspix.com) to benefit the wish children of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, raising more than $180,000 in its 15-year history. Steve Smith, Katie's uncle and the organizer of the ride, wanted to find a way to give back to Make-A-Wish® Massachusetts and Rhode Island after Katie's wish was fulfilled. Steve, along with his brother-in-law, Tony Miller, organized the Team Kate Bike Ride with a small group of family and friends. Now, living as a healthy 30 year-old, Katie cheers on her uncle and friends as they embark on a new journey each year.

Palm newest Missouri S&T grad

ROLLA, MO - Garrett Conrad Palm of Wilmington graduated from Missouri University of Science and Technology during commencement ceremonies held Friday, May 4, and Saturday, May 5, in the Gale Bullman Multi-Purpose Building on campus. Palm earned a bachelor of science in mechanical engineering.

More than 770 candidates received degrees during the ceremonies. The university awards bachelor of science, bachelor of arts, master of science and doctor of philosophy (Ph.D.) degrees.

Missouri S&T has traditionally recognized graduates earning a bachelor's degree with honors by placing the designation "summa cum laude," "magna cum laude" or "cum laude" on their diplomas. The highest honor, summa cum laude, is awarded to students who have earned a cumulative grade point (GPA) of 3.8 or above on a 4.0 scale for all courses counting toward the degree. Magna cum laude is the designation for a GPA of 3.5 to 3.79, and cum laude indicates a GPA of 3.2 to 3.49.

Missouri S&T is one of four campuses in the University of Missouri System and one of the nation's top technological research universities.

For more information, visit www.mst.edu or contact the admissions office at 800-522-0938.

Little on Dean's List at Newbury College

WILMINGTON - Samantha Little, a graduate of Wilmington High School, earned a position on the Dean's List with Honors, for the Spring 2012 semester at Newbury College in Brookline, MA.

In order to receive this distinguished position, a student must maintain a GPA of 3.5 or higher. Samantha received an Associates Degree in Fashion Merchandising from Middlesex Community College in Bedford, MA and is now pursuing a Bachelors Degree in Interior Design at Newbury College.

GM Cameron retiring from RMLD

READING - On July 12 Reading Municipal Light Department (RMLD) General Manager Vinnie Cameron notified RMLD Board Chairman Phil Pacino of his intention to retire in early 2013. Cameron's employment agreement requires him to give the Board of Commissioners six months' notice in the event of retirement or resignation.

"My decision to retire is a result of several months of consideration related to the operational status of the RMLD and my desire to pursue other interests," Cameron stated in a letter to Pacino on July 12.

Cameron has been with the utility since 1988 when he was hired as the Energy Services Manager. He was promoted to Assistant General Manager of Wholesale Operations in 1995 and named as Acting General Manager in 2002 when former General Manager Len Rucker resigned. Cameron was named General Manager in 2003.

Cameron is confident that RMLD's record of high reliability, low electric rates and excellent customer service will continue to prosper. "The RMLD's overall high performance is a direct result of the RMLD's well-trained, experienced and dedicated workforce, which I have had the pleasure of managing over the last ten years," said Cameron.

Pacino, who has been a Board member since 1987 said, "I have had the pleasure of serving on the Board since Vinnie's inception as general manager ten years ago. While I am pleased to see him pursue other interests and opportunities, this is a bittersweet moment for the Board and RMLD. We wish him all the best in his endeavors."

"The Board of Commissioners will go forward during the next six months to find a replacement for Mr. Cameron's position."

Wilmington Senior Topics

As we head into the third week on July... with the heat and sun we hope everyone can keep cool - remember the best way to "beat the heat" is to drink large amounts of water even when you are not thirsty. While water is the best choice for refueling, any non-alcoholic, decaffeinated beverage such as lemonade can prevent dehydration and heat stress. Also, feel free to come to the center and enjoy the air condition.

The following is some information that readers may find helpful:

Scammers Out to Profit on U. S. Supreme Court's Ruling on the Affordable Care Act

It's enough to make you sick. No sooner had the U.S. Supreme Court ruled on the Affordable Care Act than scam artists began working the phones. Claiming to be from the government, they're saying that under the Affordable Care Act, they need to verify some information. For example, they might have the routing number of the person's bank, and then use that information to get the person to reveal the entire account number. Other times, they have asked for credit card numbers, Social Security numbers, Medicare ID, or other personal information. The Federal Trade Commission, the nation's consumer protection agency, cautions you not to give out personal or financial information in response to unsolicited phone calls, emails, or knocks on your door. Scam artists want your information to commit identity theft, charge your existing credit cards, debit your checking account, open new credit card, checking, or savings accounts, write fraudulent checks, or take out loans in your name. If you get a call from someone who claims to be from the government and who asks for your personal information, hang up. It's a scam. The government and legitimate organizations with which you do business have the information they need and will not ask you for it. Then, file a complaint at ftc.gov or call toll-free, 1-877-FTC-HELP. If you think your identity's been stolen, visit ftc.gov/idtheft or call 1-877-ID-THEFT. You also can file a complaint with your state Attorney General.

For more information about the federal health care law, visit HealthCare.gov.

The FTC works to prevent fraudulent, deceptive and unfair business practices in the marketplace and to provide information to help consumers spot, stop and avoid them. To file a complaint or get free information on consumer issues, visit ftc.gov or call toll-free, 1-877-FTC-HELP (1-877-382-4357); TTY: 1-866-653-4261. Watch a new video, How to File a Complaint, at ftc.gov/video to learn more. The FTC enters consumer complaints into the Consumer Sentinel Network, a secure online database and investigative tool used by hundreds of civil and criminal law enforcement agencies in the U.S. and abroad.

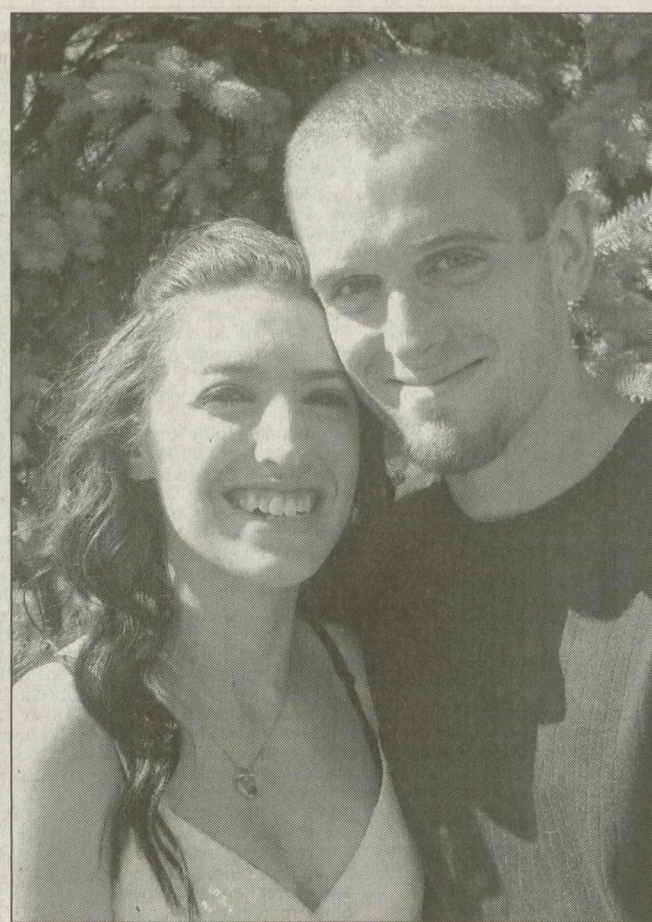

Future Event

The Gator Pit serves up great pre-game barbecue for everyone! Enjoy the relaxed picnic atmosphere before taking in your next Spinners game. The Gator Pit meals include grilled steak tips, BBQ ribs, sausages, hot dogs, chicken wings, grilled chicken breast, tossed salad, pasta salad; New England baked beans, corn-on-the-cob, fruit, non-alcoholic beverages and ice cream for dessert.

The first pitch is thrown at 1:05 PM - the bus will depart from the Buzzell Senior at 10:15 AM, the BBQ begins promptly at 11:30 AM. Don't miss out on the fantastic summer outing! We have several tickets available.

On Thursday October 11, 2012 come join us on a trip that features the Mohawk trail, The Bridge of Flowers, Atkins Farm and a traditional New England luncheon at Chandler's Restaurant. The restaurant will be serving a delicious full course luncheon, featuring a garden salad, choice of either Baked Scrod or baked Chicken entrée and a scrumptious dessert. The bus will be departing the center at 9:00 AM and will return around 5:30 PM. Sign up is on Tuesday, August 14, 2012 at 10:00AM. The cost per person is $50.00 for Wilmington residents (actual cost is $59.00).

Amanda R. Hanscom and Michael A. Shanahan plan August wedding

Amanda Rose Hanscom of North Chelmsford, the daughter of Rose Hanscom of Billerica and Douglas Hanscom of New Hampshire, and Michael Allan Shanahan, son of Eileen and Richard Marques of Pepperell and Randolph and Jerelyn Richardson of Wilmington, announce their engagement.

The bride-to-be attended Shawsheen Tech and is currently employed as a nanny. The future groom also attended Shawsheen Tech and is presently employed at Towne Fair Tire.

The couple will be married in St. Mary's Church in Billerica on August 4 this year.

Fitchburg State Dean's List

Shah graduates from Boston College

CHESTNUT HILL, MA - Samir Shah of Tewksbury has graduated from Boston College with a Bachelor of Science degree from the University's College of Arts & Sciences with a major in biochemistry.

Commencement was held on May 21 in Alumni Stadium on the Boston College campus in Chestnut Hill, Mass. There were more than 4,400 undergraduate and graduate degree recipients in the Boston College Class of 2012.

The 2012 Commencement speaker was award-winning broadcast journalist Bob Woodruff, whose recovery from a near-fatal traumatic brain injury sustained while he was reporting on US and Iraqi security forces was detailed in the best-selling memoir In an Instant, co-written with his wife, Lee. Woodruff received an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree at the ceremonies.

Boston College also awarded honorary degrees to four other distinguished individuals: Joseph A. Appleyard, SJ, socius (executive assistant) for the New England Province of the Society of Jesus (Doctor of Humane Letters); William V. "Bill" Campbell, chairman of Intuit Inc. (Doctor of Business Administration); Navyn A. Salem, founder of a nonprofit that manufactures food for treating and preventing malnutrition (Doctor of Social Science); and Liz Walker, an award-winning TV news anchor and ordained minister now working in international education and womens issues (Doctor of Humane Letters).

The Rev. William P. Leahy, SJ, 25th president of Boston College, presented the degrees.

Local residents graduate from Stonehill College

EASTON - The following Wilmington residents recently graduated from Stonehill College:

Jennifer Ashley DiNuccio earned a Bachelor of Arts degree.

Megan Elizabeth Keane earned a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration degree.

Stonehill College is a welcoming, academically challenging community of 2,500 students on a beautiful, active campus located 22 miles south of Boston, offering easy access to internships, job opportunities, museums, sporting events, and more. Stonehill's dedicated and supportive faculty mentor students in more than 80 diverse majors and minors in the liberal arts, sciences, and business. Stonehill is a vibrant place where students learn to think, act, and lead with courage toward the creation of a more just and compassionate world.

Enge Murray earns degree from Becker College

WORCESTER - Enge McNeill Murray of Tewksbury graduated from Becker College, at the Commencement Ceremony held on Monday, May 14, 2012 at the Hanover Theatre in Worcester, Massachusetts. Murray earned a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration degree Magna Cum Laude.

Students who received the honor of Magna Cum Laude graduated with a cumulative GPA of 3.7 - 3.89.

Dom Sagolla, co-creator of Twitter, gave the keynote address. Becker College recognized Sagolla with an honorary doctorate of humane letters.

"Dedication, hard work, and simple actions change the world; the Becker College Class of 2012 can look to Dom Sagolla's example," said Becker President Robert E. Johnson, Ph.D. "Dom conveys what is best about the entrepreneurial spirit, and his achievements have served to create, unite, and inspire a global community."

A software engineer in Silicon Valley during the dot-com boom, Sagolla has been in research and development at HP Laboratories, the MIT Media Lab, and Adobe Systems. He helped build Macromedia Studio, Odeo Studio, the original Twitter, and Adobe Creative Suite. He now produces iPhone apps with his company DollarApp in San Francisco.

Hanson earns degree from University of New Haven

WEST HAVEN, CT -- Bethany Hanson of Wilmington graduated from the University of New Haven on May 13, 2012 with a B.A. in Global Studies.

Wilmington Library Notes

by Christina Stewart

Enjoy Summer Reading

Summer is a great time to relax and read a good book whether you are using an e-book reader, listening to an audio book, or lounging in the beach chair with a paperback best seller. Going on vacation and don't know what to read? Stop by the library and chat with one of the librarians who can help you select some titles that match your interests. Summer reading sign up for children of all ages is ongoing. Educational experts agree that children who read succeed. You can sign up online at www.wilmlibrary.org or stop by the library.

Event Registration

Registration begins 30 days prior to the event. Please register online using our Calendar of Events at www.wilmlibrary.org or by calling (978) 694-2099 (for Adult) or (978) 694-2098 (for Children/Teen). Please note events that require registration are marked (RR).

Fuel tanker overturns

tle continued on two fronts, one securing the gas tanker and two, containing the leaking fuel oil.

A host of specialty apparatus were brought in including units from Hanscom, Logan, Everett and Cambridge, to make sure the tanker did not ignite.

Galvin said the city was very lucky when the truck did not catch fire as it was flipping over and leaking fuel at the same time.

The condition of the driver of the truck, who was brought to Massachusetts General Hospital, was not listed as of this morning as State Police were still waiting to issue a final release on the accident.

A second vehicle was also involved.

The second front, Galvin said, was the leaking fuel flowing from the tanker toward Normac Road.

The spill, Galvin said, was contained largely to that area.

The good news, he noted, was that this area is nowhere near the Woburn's water supply.

Woburn Department of Public Works crews, under the direction of Chris Doherty, and City Engineer Jay Corey, were on scene as well as state Department of Environmental Protection personnel, and specialty units.

While Woburn and State Police assisted at the scene, fire crews from some 14 departments were on scene, largely staged in the Woburn Mall parking lot, including most local communities, like Burlington, Winchester, Reading, Stoneham and Wilmington.

Galvin also noted the special units on scene for such HazMat incidents including crews from Logan, Hanscom, Cambridge and Everett.

It was believed the tanker was righted sometime around 4 a.m., with traffic back to what could considered to be normal by about 7 a.m. Delays remained throughout the morning commute, however. While Route 128 south was reportedly backed up to around Salem Street in Lynnfield, many commuters heard the news about the tanker and opted to drive on back roads, creating delays.

A police presence was placed around the city to assist with any delays the accident might have had on local roadways, which often back up when there is a major accident on the highway.

"It could have been a major disaster," Galvin said.

"It was a great effort," Galvin said of the emergency response from both local units and assisting local and state agencies.

"It is a bad spot," he noted, as this accident happened in the same area when another gas tanker flipped on its side several years ago, closing the highway from the late evening time of the accident through the morning commute.

Galvin also noted the accident is an area where such trucks have to exit 93 and go around Boston along Route 95 due to safety concerns in Boston.

He added that officials have been talking for some 15 years about fixing the Route 93/95 interchange, but nothing has been done to date.

According to a press release from the Mass State Police early this morning, the highway remained completely closed until about 2:30 this morning when some lanes began opening back up.

Preliminary reports suggest the crash involved a small passenger car and the tanker truck. The operator of the tanker truck was transported to Mass General Hospital with unknown injuries. Charges in the matter are pending completion of the investigation.

DEP ok's WHS project

Town's long-established preservation restriction on the property.

"The document should protect the property and the Town's interest in it," Jess Phelps of Historic New England said. "We are excited to branch into Wilmington for the last year and a half."

Historic New England took possession of the property in 2011. Phelps said since then, the organization hired several professional historic preservationists as staff members to maintain the property who will continue to do so after the private buyer moves into the Richardson Estate.

Town Manager Michael Caira said he and Town counsel have been working with Phelps and Carolyn Harris of the Wilmington Historical Commission to ensure the ultimate agreement is compatible with what the Town is looking for.

"We would hope at the Board's August meeting we can finalize, approve both documents," Caira said.

Local aid numbers higher than last year

According to an inter-department communication from the Town Manager to the Board of Selectmen, the fiscal year 2013 state budget allocates more funds than the Town's revenue estimates indicated in the Town's two major local aid accounts: Unrestricted General Government Aid and Chapter 70 aid to Schools.

In Unrestricted General Government Aid Wilmington will receive $2,103,236, which is $152,073 more than expected. In Chapter 70 Schools Wilmington will receive $10,653,176, which is $467,069 more than expected.

Caira said because the state budget approved by Gov. Patrick earlier this year contained similar numbers, the local aid numbers were no surprise.

"All in all this is positive news for the Town," Caira said.

Town Manager Michael Caira wrote a letter on behalf of the Board of Selectmen to Senator Bruce Tarr, Representatives James Miceli and Charles Murphy in opposition to a portion of House Bill 4198. The letter requests legislators to remove the property taxation sections from the final bill.

"We believe it [the bill] is counter-productive for local communities including the Town of Wilmington," Caira said.

According to a legislative alert from the Massachusetts Municipal Association (MMA), much of the bill is a designed to reduce the cost of electricity, provide savings for consumers and encourage business expansion, but both the House and Senate versions of the bill include provisions to exempt solar and wind electricity generation property and equipment from local property tax.

To read the letter in full, please contact the Town Manager's office at 978-658-3311.

Assessor to Retire
Wilmington's Principal Assessor Humphrey "Skip" Moynihan will retire from his position with the Town on November 30, 2012.

"The Town of Wilmington has been fortunate to have had Mr. Moynihan in its employ for the past 20 years," Caira said. He continued to explain the Town has already begun the recruitment process and while Caira and Moynihan will help to serve on an internal screening committee, the next Town Manager Jeff Hull will select the new Principal Assessor.

Stop Woburn debris trucks

The Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, Michael Newhouse, drafted a letter to the City of Woburn Board of Appeals requesting that the City find a new route for trucks carrying debris that does not impede on Wilmington residents and traffic.

The current truck route in consideration would allow trucks to haul more than 400,000 cubic yards of material through residential neighborhoods in Wilmington.

"The Town of Wilmington registers its strongest objection to such a plan ... It is unconscionable to offer a plan that would have such a negative effect on a neighboring community and we urge that you reject any such proposal."

Newhouse said Wilmington's Planning and Conservation Director, Carole Hamilton, was assured by a representative from TEC that the route would be changed to use the Commerce Way interchange on Route 93 in Woburn. He said the Town has not seen any evidence of the change. The letter continues to explain that if the route is not changed, the Town of Wilmington will "explore all legal means to oppose this project."

Heav'nly Donuts!

Red Shirt Fridays honor veterans

"We're trying to give back to the community more with Local Heroes, honoring the vets in our community."

"It's a tradition that started in the fire service about 8 to 10 years ago. It's a nationwide program. Lou Cimaglia and I had this conversation years ago. Now we finally got to a point where we could pull it together in Wilmington and join the numerous Firefighters across the country to show support for the troops," said Deputy chief John Brown.

Fred Ryan, Chair of the Clothing Committee and principal designer of the shirt said, "We wanted to be professional about it. Take our time and be selective about the shirt design."

The union worked with Fire Chief Edward G. Bradbury to design a shirt that offers a professional appearance and also signifies the importance of the effort. The polo shirts are embroidered with each firefighter's name and a flag with 9-11-01 embroidered below on the back.

"That's something that means a lot to the guys," said Ryan. "That's why so many are overseas now and have served or are veterans."

The Department has thirteen veterans, include two women, as well as a few reservists, according to Cavanaugh. All branches of the military are represented except for the Coast Guard.

The union has pledged to donate $1 for every firefighter wearing a red shirt each week and the union membership has pledged to match those donations. The funds will go to Local Heroes "who do a great job supporting our troops," said Cavanaugh.

Lou Cimaglia, Selectman and Wilmington Veterans' Agent praised the initiative.

"Obviously I appreciate any individual or organization that supports Local Heroes." The funds will go toward postage costs incurred by the organization, which has spent $80,000 just in postage over the last two years.

Local Heroes has mailed 15,600 packages so far, and hasn't missed a week of shipping packages to soldiers overseas since its inception November 3, 2004. The group averages 25 packages weekly, with more during holidays. Cimaglia noted that in the past many firefighters have come down, as a group, in their red shirts to help pack packages.

"I feel vets have close ties to the community and a sense of service to the community, not that non-vets don't," qualified Cavanaugh. "Being a vet myself, you really

Hot rod show Sunday

Company of Wilmington, the fun afternoon family event features the car show, a BBQ lunch and raffles. All proceeds support the troops and veterans.

The AAA Tire organizers of the Hot Rod Show are two brothers, William and Patrick McGarry. As former Marines, they understand and value the type of work Local Heroes does. Each has been deployed to Afghanistan. They are motivated not only by their own experiences, but more by their connection to other veterans and events here in town. For more Hot Rod Show information, email pmcg3109@yahoo.com or visit www.mass-localheroes.org.

Beyond the Hot Rod Show, the brothers also sponsor an informal meeting program for local veterans. They hold weekly get-togethers and provide an opportunity for these people to meet and connect in a supportive atmosphere of common experiences. Wilmington's Veterans Agent Lou Cimaglia facilitates this process by providing the information and invitations to veterans returning from deployments. McGarry credits Cimaglia as the backbone of the effort. "Without him, it wouldn't happen."

Coming home after deployment can be a challenging transition. That is the main focus of the "self support system" the brothers have developed.

McGarry explains, "If we can help out in any shape or form, we do it."

They show sincere respect for anyone and everyone who has served in the military regardless of the length of time or role they had. All are welcomed at their meetings. The Wilmington Veteran's Office can provide more information.

Local Heroes fundraising continues in August with two other well-known events. The 6th Annual Golf Tournament will be held Monday August 6th and the 7th Annual Motorcycle Poker Run on Saturday August 25.

The Golf Tournament is at Sagamore Golf Course in Wakefield. It starts with check-in at 7:30 a.m. and concludes with an awards ceremony at the Wilmington Knights of Columbus. There will be food, raffles, and prizes. For more information visit www.mass-localheroes.org or contact Mike Dovidio, (617) 605-4598, mdovidio@draper.com.

The Motorcycle Poker Run begins with registration 9-1030 am August 25th at the Tewksbury/Wilmington Elks Club. There will be a BBQ and live music. Since they have a bus, anyone can participate and rain is not a factor. For more information, contact Chris Barry at 508-954-7840 or check the Local Heroes web site.

feel it is a calling to continue to serve the people of the town in this capacity versus a military capacity."

Both Ryan and Cavanaugh expressed thanks to Chief Bradbury for "his support in allowing the switch to a red shirt to show our support to the veterans and active military members in the community."

"I definitely would like to thank the Town Crier, which been there since the beginning donating papers to send overseas," added Cimaglia. "Especially the guys from Tewksbury and Wilmington, they like to stay on top of local issues."

Local Heroes has a golf tournament coming up August 6 and this Sunday will be hosting a Hot Rod Rally at the Knights of Columbus at 2 pm. Entry is just $10 to check out the hot rods and enjoy a cookout.

10-11 Year-Olds advance to next round

Tewksbury Nationals take District title

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

It was a great weekend for the Tewksbury National 11-year old All-Star team, as they won the District 14 championship, taking two out of three games from defending state champion North Andover East, moving one step closer to a state championship of their own by overcoming a 1-0 series deficit as well as a 4-0 deficit in the clinching game.

Tewksbury dropped the opening game of the series on Saturday in a 1-0 heart-breaker, but despite facing elimination against the defending state champs, they never panicked and fought back to take the second game of the series by a score of 6-1 on Sunday before winning the clincher on Monday in a 13-10 thriller despite falling into 4-0 first inning deficit.

"It's just incredible, really," Tewksbury coach Wayne Freitag said. "We gave up one quick run in the first inning of the first game and then even though we played great defense, we were just unable to get anything going on offense. But the kids did not get down and they came back ready to play in the next one."

Indeed they were ready for the next one, coming back with a complete all around effort to win by a score of 6-1.

Josh Papa returned to the mound for the first time in six days and showed no signs of rust, tossing a complete game five hitter while striking out three.

"Josh just pitched his heart out in that game," Freitag said. "He had not pitched for a while, but he kept himself ready and he came out and just threw a great game. And the bats also came alive for us."

Among those who came alive the most for Tewksbury were Matt Perron who was 2-for-2 with a run scored and Cam Legvold who was also 2-for-3 with an RBI, while Travis MacMurdo was 1-for-2 with two runs scored and an RBI.

Tewksbury also got some strong outfield defense, with Adam Pacheco throwing out a runner from right field and Colby Wilson starting a double play from center field.

In the championship game on Monday night, Tewksbury found themselves trailing 4-0 after the first inning before responding with five runs of their own in the second inning and five more in the fifth to roll to the victory, taking a 12-5 lead before North Andover mounted a rally late in the game.

"In the first inning we hit the ball well and had a chance to score some runs but they held us, and then they came out and scored four themselves," Freitag said. "The kids were a little down after that, but I just took them off to the side and told them not to let this one inning get them down."

"They all got together, and put up five runs right away and we really controlled the game from there."

Legvold led the way offensively, with five RBI, including a three run double, while other offensive stars were Jack Kelly who was 2-for-2 with two runs scored and an RBI, Papa with three hits, two runs scored and an RBI, MacMurdo with a double, two singles, and RBI and a run and Pacheco with two hits, two runs and an RBI.

Other offensive stars were Dan Adelsberger with an RBI and a run scored and Will Timmins with a hit, a run and two RBI.

Freitag was pleased to see so many contributors on offense.

"Some of our stronger players did not have their best games, but we had six or seven other players who stepped up with big efforts," Freitag said. "It was all across the board. If it was not one kid, it was another."

With the win, Tewksbury advanced to the sectional playoffs where on Thursday at Stage Point Park in Gloucester they will take on the winner of Wednesday's matchup between Peabody and Wakefield in their first game of the double elimination tournament.

While there is a long way to go, Freitag is confident his team has the ability to get through the sectionals and even win a state title.

"We set goals at the beginning of this, and we felt we could win the districts," Freitag said. "But we sat down after the game and set some new goals. We just beat the defending state champions. If they were good enough to win it last year, there is no reason why we can't win it this year."

The Tewksbury 10-and-11 year-old National All-Star Baseball team captured the District title in exciting fashion this past week. The team now advances to the next round. (courtesy photo).

13-14 year olds

The 13 and 14-year-old All-Stars from Tewksbury are looking to win a state title of their own and they took a big step in that direction on Tuesday night in Canton when they pulled out a dramatic 1-0 extra inning thriller to force a championship game in the sectional final on Wednesday night, with the winner of that game advancing in the state tournament.

On Tuesday night, Tewksbury got an exceptional pitching performance from Brett Morris, who threw a two hitter over 6 2/3 innings, while Ryan Bain picked up the win in relief after pitching a perfect eighth inning.

Steven Rosa, who also did some great relief work for Tewksbury got the game winning hit for Tewksbury, lacing a single to score

Morris who had started the eighth inning with a single.

With Morris on base, Jake Larsen was hit by a pitch to move Morris up to second setting the stage for Rosa's heroics.

Tewksbury had earned their way into the sectional final with a 9-6 win over Gloucester on Sunday.

Tewksbury was led to victory in this one by Morris who had two hits and three RBI to pace the offense, while Chad Olivera and Ryan Bain also each had two hits and three RBI.

This game was a thriller from the start, as it was tied 4-4 after the first inning, but Tewksbury took control with four runs in the second to take an 8-4 lead. Starting pitcher Nathan Tenaglia got the win for Tewksbury, settling down after his tough first inning to throw 5 2/3 solid innings while striking out four batters.

Rosa was dominant on the mound in relief, striking out three and not allowing a hit or walk over 1 2/3 innings.

Tewksbury suffered a 13-3 loss to Canton on Saturday, but prior to that they had come up with a big 8-7 win over Gloucester on Friday, as they erased a 5-2 deficit with two runs in the fifth and four more in the sixth.

Morris had a hit and two RBI to pace the Tewksbury offense while Rosa had a key fifth inning RBI single. Tenaglia picked up the win in relief on the mound.

Many locals enjoy success at Bay State Games

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

The 30th Annual Bay State Summer Games were held over the past couple of weeks, with over 7,000 athletes ranging in age from 6 to 86 from all over Massachusetts competing in 26 sports.

Wilmington and Tewksbury were very well represented at the games, with nearly 20 athletes from the two towns competing in the games. Not only did they compete, but several local stars came home with gold medals for their efforts in the following sports:

ICE HOCKEY

Playing big tournament games is nothing new to members of the Wilmington High Boys Hockey team, having won several of them on their way to winning the Division 2 state title this past season. Several members of the team continued their winning ways in the Bay State Games, with four members of that championship squad, along with a newcomer to the program helping to lead the Northeast Hockey team to a gold medal at the Games.

Incoming freshman Joseph Castellano, along with seniors Anthony Castellano, Cam Collins, Cam Owens and Jacob Rogers were key cogs in bringing the championship to the Northeast squad, particularly in their 5-4 shootout championship game win over Metro on Sunday.

Owens, who had a hat trick in the Wildcats state championship game win over Franklin back in March, stepped up big time in a big game once again, this time assisting on three goals to help lead Northeast to victory, while linemate Rogers scored as goal in the win.

Northeast won the shootout 1-0 after the teams had skated to a 4-4 tie in regulation as well as through two ten minute overtime periods.

TRACK&FIELD

Another Wilmington High star, this one a graduate of the school, was the top local winner in the track and field portion of the Games, as Jon Parrella, now a junior at Worcester State University, won the 400 meter hurdles in a time of 59.03.

A pair of Tewksbury residents, Tewksbury High senior Courtney Spinelli, along with 51-year-old Jim Burgoyne also had great results. Spinelli, who just graduated from TMHS after a very solid track-and-field career, finished third in the girls javelin throw with a distance of 111-00.

Burgoyne, who is a volunteer throwing coach for the TMHS Track teams, finished in the top three in two events. He earned a third place finish in the Men's Master's shot put with a throw of 40-00.25, and was even better in the discus, taking second with a throw of 130-08.

FIELD HOCKEY

Caitlin Derrickson of Wilmington, a junior at Central Catholic helped lead the Northeast Field Hockey team to a gold medal, as the team went undefeated throughout the Games and wrapped up the gold medal with a 2-0 win over Southeast on Sunday.

After a close 3-2 opening win against Southeast Thursday, Northeast/Metro won 3-0 against Coastal on Friday. Saturday saw them win two games; 3-1 vs. Central and 4-1 against West.

SOCCER

Three local players competed in the Boys and Girls soccer competition at the Games, with Erin Berube of Wilmington and Alexa Poulin of Tewksbury both helping the Northeast squad to a gold medal which they clinched on Sunday with a thrilling 1-0 win over the West team.

Northeast got the game winning goal from Sophie Draper of Andover in the 63rd minute. The win in the finals followed up wins over Metro (3-0), Southeast/Coastal (4-1), Central (2-0) and West (2-1) in the preliminary round. The Northeast then went on to beat Central in the semi-finals on Saturday by a score of 3-1 before clinching the gold on Sunday.

Sean Berube, a Wilmington resident and senior at St. John's Prep, competed for the Northeast Boys team, scoring a big second half goal last Friday against Coastal to key a big 3-1 win that put his team in the medal round.

Unfortunately for Berube and his teammates they suffered a tough 2-1 loss to Metro in the semi-finals with Metro scoring the tying goal in the final minute of the first half and the game winner in the 60th minute.

BASKETBALL

Wilmington resident Caitlin Derrickson was a member of the Northeast Field Hockey team which captured a Gold Medal at the annual Bay State Games held this past week.

Tewksbury High recent graduate Bobby Lumbard was a member of the Northeast Boys Basketball team, helping his team to a pair of victories in the preliminary round, a 79-78 win over the West last Thursday and a 97-82 win over Metro on Friday.

Lumbard and his teammates were unable to get past Coastal in the semi-finals on Saturday, however, falling by a score of 113-95.

TRAP SHOOTING

Tewksbury and Wilmington residents did their towns proud in the trap shooting competition at the Games, as four individuals combined for three wins and three second place finishes in various age groups.

Tewksbury High sophomore Valerie Fischer took first place in the Female Scholastic Novice Division with 45 points, edging out her nearest rival by two points, while Tewksbury resident Meredith Bonugli, a senior at Shawsheen Tech, narrowly missed out on the championship in the Female Scholastic Singles, finishing with 90 points to come in just behind winner Annah Ruggiero of Taunton who had 94 points.

Steven Stella, 59, of Tewksbury, and Walter Bristol Jr., of Wilmington traded gold medal performances in two different categories with Stella taking home gold in the Singles Male Open with 99 points to edge Bristol's 95 points, and Bristol returning the favor in the Doubles Male Open, winning gold with 93 points to best Stella's second place 86 points.

BADMINTON

Dun Chen, 44, of Tewksbury took home gold in the BMS category in badminton, rolling to the title while not dropping as single set until the finals. Chen won his first round match by straight set scores of 21-8, 21-11, the quarters 21-18, 21-19 and the semi-finals 21-16, 21-13 before being forced to three set in his finals match against Nandon Tandon.

Chen prevailed, however taking the match 21-18, 18-21, 21-11.

BATON TWIRLING

Amber Biron, 13, of Tewksbury, had a victory and two second place finishes in baton twirling. Biron took home gold along with Olivia Kane of Weston in the Duet Scholastic, with a score of 74.9, and earned silver medals in the Beginner 2 Baton Scholastic with a score of 71.4 and got another silver in the Advanced X-Strut with 92.3 points, coming in just behind Kane's 93.1.

In addition, several awards were given out throughout the event. Dalton Rolli, Jimmy Stein and Danny Stein were named the MVPs of the Varsity, JV and Freshmen teams, respectively. Other varsity awards went to Cole Pepper (Coach's), Colin Doherty (Rookie of the Year and Defensive Web of the Year), Rolli (Silver Slugger), Brendan McDonough (Gold Glove), John Keough (Cy Young), Brendan McDonough (Fireman of the Year), Dan Pothier (Offensive Web Gem) and Mike Ciampa (10th Player).

Also the team announced that next year's varsity captains will be Tim Woods and Colin Doherty.

Wilmington 11's eliminated

The District 13 Wilmington 11-year-old All-Star Baseball team and Assabet Valley took the field on Tuesday, July 10th and the Wildcats came out on top 12-1.

Wilmington jumped out to an 2-0 lead in the 1st with hits from Joey Rebeiro, Danny Woods, Dom Pedi, Riley McCue and Nathan Frye. Both teams didn't score in the second inning.

In the top of the third inning Wilmington exploded for nine runs with Joey Rebeiro, Richie McNamara, Danny Woods, Dom Pedi, Connor Benoit knocking in runs. Wilmington batters showed good plate discipline by taking six walks in the inning as well. Wilmington would get one more run in the fourth to take a commanding 12-0 lead. Assabet Valley got one unearned run in the bottom of the fourth and that is when the game was stopped.

Ben Maynard and Chris Stokes pitched two good innings a piece for Wilmington.

The Wilmington offense was led by Dom Pedi (4-for-4) Danny Woods (2-for-4) and Joey Rebeiro (2-for-4). Riley McCue and Richie McNamara made some nice plays in the field leading the defense for Wilmington.

With the win Wilmington advanced to the semifinal game vs Wakefield where they were defeated 15-6.

Wilmington and Wakefield were playing for a chance to play in the District 13 final game. Wakefield jumped on the board first getting three in the first inning. Wakefield got five more runs in the third inning on five hits and a few Wilmington errors.

Wilmington got three runs back in the third with a Richie McNamara single and a Pete Marino single the highlights of the inning. Wakefield would get seven more runs in the last three innings on the sloppy defensive play of Wilmington.

Richie McNamara went 3-for-4 to lead the Wilmington offense. Andrew Sullivan had a nice day at the plate getting two hits and just missing a home run. Tim Kippenberger had two hits on the day. Joey Rebeiro had two hits as well. Pete Marino contributed with a hit.

The defense struggled most of the game which was the first time in all of the tournament games. Ben Maynard and Dome Pedi pitched three good innings a piece for Wilmington.

Wilmington had a good run and the kids played well as a team. The kids deserve a lot of credit for making the semifinal game. All the kids contributed during the tournament. Chris Stokes and Andrew Sullivan were solid behind the plate. Ben Maynard and Joey Rebeiro were the studs on the mound. Richie McNamara (8-for-18) Danny Woods (7-for-19) and Dom Pedi (7-for-14) led the Wilmington offense all tournament.

Riley McCue, Connor Benoit played solid defense. Danny Woods (SS) and Richie McNamara (2B) prevented a lot of runs from scoring with solid infield play. Nathan Frye had some key bunts to spark a rally.

Tim Kippenberger had a few key hits to keep some innings going. Pete Marino and Bailey Smith played well in the outfield and got on base in some key innings. Ryan Barrett got on base and provided a spark.

Fundraising event at Wilmington Middle School

Annual hoop tourney this Sunday

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

When Bob LaVita learned that his close friend Carl Lombardi had been diagnosed with Multiple Sclerosis, he like anyone in that situation must have felt helpless in trying to help his friend in the battle against the disease.

But LaVita did not stay helpless for long, as he began an effort to help not only Lombardi, but also the countless others who are diagnosed with MS every year. LaVita began a fund raising effort in Lombardi's name four years ago, participating in the Cape Cod Challenge Walk, a three day 50 mile walk to raise funds and awareness for MS, and it is an effort that he continues to this day.

But Bob was not alone in his efforts, as soon his sons Mike and Rob joined him in his fund raising efforts, and this weekend will see the Lavitas, along with nearly 100 others continue their efforts with the Third Annual 3-on-3 Basketball Tournament, which is organized and run by Mike LaVita.

This Sunday morning at 10:00 a.m. at the Wilmington Middle School gymnasium, 32 teams of three will compete in a tournament that promises to be competitive and fun, but most importantly raises funds essential for Mike LaVita to compete in the Cape Cod Challenge Walk once again this year.

Mike will be playing in the tournament and participating in the Walk as part of Team Lombardi in honor of Carl as well as his daughter Melissa Lombardi Matthews, who is also battling MS.

"Every year this becomes more near and dear to us

This weekend the 3-on-3 basketball tournament will be held at the Wilmington Middle School and among the event coordinators and players include, from left, Mike LaVita, Derek Trueira, Sean Quigley, Pat Taylor, Bob LaVita and Kevin Lombardi. (courtesy photo).

because we meet more people who are stricken with this disease," Mike said. "We want to be able to help in any way we can."

Many people would look at Mike's efforts in running such an event and rightfully consider him to be a hero of sorts for going to such efforts for a friend of the family, but for Mike, putting this tournament together for the first time three years ago was not heroic, it was simply the right thing to do, a lesson he learned from his father.

"After my dad got involved with the Cape Cod Challenge Walk four years ago, it inspired me and I wanted to get involved in it as well," LaVita said. "So I decided to do the Walk as well the next year and so did my brother. Carl has always been like an uncle to us so it meant a lot to us to do what we could." "The tough thing is, my father, brother and I are all trying to do fundraising from the same pool of people, so that is kind of hard to ask them to donate to all of us, so this basketball tournament is my primary source of fund raising towards reaching my goal for the Walk."

LaVita has set a goal of raising $1,500 to participate in the Walk, which takes place from September 7-9, and all of the proceeds from this pay to play event will go towards that goal.

Along with raising money from the teams participating in the tournament, LaVita and his family will also raise funds on Sunday through some great raffles, that include Bruins and Red Sox tickets, a lottery scratch ticket bundle, and many other prizes.

It promises to be a fun day for all who participate, as well as the spectators.

LaVita is anticipating a bigger crowd than usual this year, simply due to the increased number of participants in the tournament. What started as a 2-on-2 tournament with just 16 teams three years ago, has more than tripled in size in just three years, as it now a 3-on-3 tournament with 32 teams.

"To see it grow the way it

Public Notices

Every day throughout the United States newspapers publish thousands of public notices about events, conditions or actions that affect countless individuals, families, neighborhoods and businesses. Public notices cover many topics including guardianships, conservatorships and protective orders, probating wills, business matters, liquor licensing, public auctions and sales, estates, zoning, public meetings, bids to sell goods and services to the government, auctions to dispose of surplus government equipment, local government finances and state and local elections. The public notice is a fundamental component of our system of representative democracy, which depends upon the participation of educated, responsible citizens.

PERSON TO
G.L. c. 190B, §5-304

In the matter of:
Joan E. Gorton
Respondent Alleged
Incapacitated person
Of: Tewksbury, MA

To the named Respondent and all other interested persons, a petition has been filed by Linda C. Marlowe of Tewksbury, MA in the above captioned matter alleging that Joan E. Gorton is in need of a Guardian and requesting that Linda C. Marlowe of Tewksbury, MA (or some other suitable person) be appointed as Guardian to serve Without Surety on the bond.

The petition asks the court to determine that the Respondent is incapacitated, that the appointment of a Guardian is necessary, and that the proposed Guardian is appropriate. The petition is on file with this court and may contain a request for certain specific authority.

You have the right to object to this proceeding. If you wish to do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance at this court on or before 10:00 AM on the return date of 08/06/2012. This day is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline date by which you have to file the written appearance if you object to the petition. If you fail to file the written appearance by the return date, action may be taken in this matter without further notice to you. In addition to filing the written appearance, you or your attorney must file a written affidavit stating the specific facts and grounds of your objection within 30 days after the return date.

IMPORTANT NOTICE
The outcome of this proceeding may limit or completely take away the above-named person's right to make decisions about personal affairs or financial affairs or both. The above-named person has the right to ask for a lawyer. Anyone may make this request on behalf of the above-named person. If the above-named person cannot afford a lawyer, one may be appointed at State expense.

NOTICE OF
APPLICATION FOR
TIER I PERMIT
EXTENSION
Naphthalene Site
365 East Street
Tewksbury
DEP RTN 3-20216
Tier IC Permit
W02531

A release of oil and/or hazardous materials has occurred at this location, which is a disposal site as defined by M.G.L. c. 21E, § 2 and the Massachusetts Contingency Plan, 310 CMR 40.0000. On July 16, 2002, the Department of Environmental Protection (MassDEP) issued a Tier I Permit for Comprehensive Response Actions at the site. On July 19, 2012, Tewksbury Hospital intends to file an Application for a Tier I Permit Extension with MassDEP pursuant to 310 CMR 40.0703 and 40.0706. This Application will seek to extend the permit for this site from August 2012 to August 2014 based upon the following rationale:

*A preliminary risk characterization screening indicates that conditions at the site potentially meet the criteria for closure.

*Additional comprehensive response actions are necessary to generate current site data in support of a Response Action Outcome.

Anyone interested in reviewing the Application for a Tier I Permit Extension should contact Dennis P. Giustra, PE, LSP at Pennoni Associates Inc., 100 Burt Road, Suite 120, Andover, MA 01810, Tel. (978) 256-2576 to request a copy of the Application. Written comments related to this Application must be submitted within 20 days of the publication of this notice to: (1) MassDEP, Northeast Regional Office, 205B Lowell Street, Wilmington, MA 01887 by mail or by hand delivery during normal business hours; and (2) Pennoni Associates Inc., 100 Burt Road, Suite 120, Andover, MA 01810. Failure to provide written comments as set forth herein may affect your right, if any, to challenge MassDEP's permit decision.

The Application and the disposal site file can be reviewed at MassDEP, Northeast Regional Office, 205B Lowell Street, Wilmington, MA 01887, Tel. (978) 694-3200. Additional public involvement opportunities are available under the Massachusetts Contingency Plan (MCP), 310 CMR 40.1403(9) and 310 CMR 40.1404.

MORTGAGEE'S NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the Power of Sale contained in a certain mortgage and security agreement given by Sachin Ghaisas and Mousami Ghaisas, dated June 22, 2005, and recorded in the Middlesex County Northern District Registry of Deeds in Book 18893, Page 107, of which mortgage the undersigned, North Shore Bank, a Co-operative Bank, is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at Public Auction at 11:00 a.m. on the 15th day of August, 2012, on the mortgaged premises known and numbered 16 Mulberry Way, Tewksbury, Massachusetts, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, to wit:

The Dwelling is L. John DiPalma Estates ("the Condominium") located at Lot #39, 16 Mulberry Way, Tewksbury, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, a condominium established pursuant to Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 183A, by Master Deed dated March 9, 1994, ("the Master Deed") and recorded with Middlesex North Registry of Deeds ("Deeds") on March 14, 1994 as Instrument No. 16162 (found in Book 6989, Page 129).

Said Dwelling Unit contains the number of square feet and is laid out as shown on a plan attached to the deed recorded in Book 7311, Page 106, to which is affixed a verified statement in for the form provided for in Massachusetts General Laws Chapter 183A, Section 9, certifying that the plan fully and accurately depicts the layout of the Dwelling, its location, dimensions, approximate area, main entrance and immediate common area to which it has access and which plan is a copy of the portion of the plan recorded with said Master Deed.

Said Dwelling is hereby conveyed together with: 1. An undivided 1.136% percentage interest in the common areas and common elements of the projects as the same may be amended pursuant to the provisions of the Master Deed; 2. The exclusive right to use the Lot known as Lot #39, Mulberry Way; 3. The right to use the streets and ways as shown on the Plans described in Exhibit A to the aforementioned Master Deed for all purposes for which streets and ways are commonly used in the Town of Tewksbury in common with all others entitled to do so; 4. All other rights, easements, agreements, interests and provisions contained in the Master Deed, the Declaration of Trust dated March 9, 1994, and recorded with said Registry of Deeds in Book 6988, Page 189, (the "Declaration of Trust") and the Rules and Regulations adopted pursuant thereto to the ("Rules and Regulations"), and as the same may be amended from time to time pursuant to the provisions thereof. Said Dwelling is conveyed subject to and with the benefit of:

1. The provisions of the Master Deed, Chapter 183A, as the same may be amended from time to time; 2. The provisions of the Master Deed, including without limitation, the title matters set forth in Exhibit A to the Master Deed and the Grantor's rights to add additional phases to the Project as set forth in the Master Deed, the Declaration of Trust and the Rules and Regulations, in each case as the same may be amended from time to time pursuant to the provisions thereof; 3. The Declarant's reserved rights set forth in Section 10 and Section 17 of said Master Deed; 4. Declarant's reserved rights to add future phases as set forth in Section 1 and Section 16 of the said Master Deed;

5. Real estate taxes assessed against the Dwelling and the Common Areas and Facilities which are not yet due and payable; 6. Provisions of existing building and zoning laws; 7. Declarant's reserved right to alter the first twenty (20) feet, or any additional amount, running parallel and adjacent to the road in order to install curbing, sidewalks or other improvements mandated by the Planning Board.

The rights, agreements, easements, restrictions, provisions and interests as set forth above, together with any amendments thereto shall constitute covenants running with the land and shall inure to the benefit of and bind, as the case may be, any person having any time and interest or estate in the Dwelling, his agents, employees, licensees, visitors and lessees as though the same were fully set forth herein. The Dwelling may be used only for residential purposes and accessory uses permitted by the Zoning By-laws of the Town of Tewksbury in the Master Deed.

The premises to be sold subject to and with the benefit of all rights of way, easements, covenants, restrictions, buildings and zoning laws, improvements, unpaid taxes, tax titles, water bills, municipal liens and assessments, rights of tenants and parties in possession, mortgages, existing encumbrances, and all other claims in the nature of liens now existing or hereafter arising, having priority over the Mortgage, if any there be. The premises shall also be sold subject to the right of redemption of the United States of America, if any there be.

TERMS OF SALE: Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00) will be required to be paid by certified check or bank cashier's check made payable to the Mortgagee at the time and place of sale as a deposit. The balance is to be paid to the Mortgagee by certified check or by bank cashier's check within thirty (30) days after the sale at the Law Office of F. Robert Allison, Attorney at Law, 159 Derby Street, Salem, Massachusetts. Time is of the essence. The successful bidder shall be required to sign a Memorandum of Sale at the Auction Sale.

The Mortgagee reserves the right to postpone the sale to a later date by public proclamation at the time and date appointed for the sale and to further postpone at any adjourned sale date by public proclamation at the time and date appointed for the adjourned sale date.

The description for the premises contained in said mortgage shall control in the event of a typographical error in this publication.

A deposit of FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS AND 00 CENTS ($5,000.00) in the form of a certified check or bank treasurer's check will be required to be delivered at or before the time the bid is offered. The successful bidder will be required to execute a Foreclosure Sale Agreement immediately after the close of the bidding. The balance of the purchase price shall be paid within thirty (30) days from the sale date in the

Annual Hoop tourney, Sunday

has, has been great to see," LaVita said. "We have gone from 32 players to over 100 now because a lot of the teams now have subs too. It's great to have so many people involved."

Some of those involved include two time defending champions Sean Quigley and Pat Taylor, who won as a two man team the first year and continued their dominance last year when adding a third player.

They will look to continue their reign this season with a different third player, but to do so they will have to get past teams that include the likes of former WHS basketball stand-outs Greg Cardello and Jeff Arciero.

"There are a lot of former Wilmington High athletes who play," LaVita, a 1998 Wilmington High graduate said. "It's a great day. There is a lot of good competition, but it is also fun competition."

The LaVita family and Team Lombardi want to thank everyone who has donated to their cause as well as all participants for taking part in Sunday's event, and would also like to send a special thank you to middle school custodians

Dave and Richie for donating their time so the tournament could be held indoors.

If you are in the neighborhood on Sunday and would like to stop by the middle school for some exciting basketball action as well as the chance to win some great prizes in the raffles, the Lombardi Party promises to put on a great show.

If you are unable to attend, but would still like to contribute to this great cause, you can visit Mike LaVita's fund raising web site at <http://main.nationalmssociety.org/goto/mlavita2012>

WHS Hall of Fame Dinner, Nov. 3

The Board of Directors of the Wilmington High School Athletic Hall of Fame has announced the selection of this years inductees. Selected for this prestigious award, are:

Eric Banda - 2000
Paula Burns - 1982
Dean Devlin - 1974
Paul Fitch - 1974
Dennis Ingram - 1999
Ted Moran - 1982
Karen Rowe - 1983
Jackie Rubino - 2002
Eric Swiezynski - 2001
Steve Winchell - 1977

A team award will be presented to the 1965 Girl's Basketball Team.

A special Benefactor award will be presented to the Sons of Italy.

Hall of Fame inductees are recognized as outstanding individuals who have made a significant contribution in the field of athletics as a participant, coach or benefactor at Wilmington High School. To be eligible, a participant must have been graduated from Wilmington High School for a period of at least ten years.

The induction dinner will be held on Saturday, November 3, 2012 at the Wilmington Knights of Columbus, at 6:30pm. Tickets are $30.00 per person and must be purchased in advance, from Jack Cushing (978) 658-2170.

AP Hall of Fame

The Cougars of Austin Preparatory School are looking for potential Hall of Famers.

Nominations for the 2013 Austin Prep Athletic Hall of Fame are now being accepted. The deadline is Wed., Oct. 31.

Eligible athletes and coaches need to have graduated or retired from coaching on or before June, 2008.

A nomination form must be filled out online; go to www.austinprepschool.org, then click on the Athletics tab to fill out the form. Please provide as much information as possible: newspaper articles, records, and anything that will aid the selection process. Electronic links can be sent to Patricia Gonzalez, Director of Athletics, at pgonzalez@austinprepschool.org. Other material can be sent via mail to Gonzalez, c/o Austin Preparatory School, 101 Willow St., Reading, MA 01867-1599.

Further information is also available at the school's Web site. The 2013 ceremony will be Saturday, April 6 at the Wyndham Andover hotel in Andover.

Wildcat Softball team edges No. Andover

Wilmington 15, North Andover 14

The Wilmington U18 softball team picked up their first victory of the summer season with a 15-14 win over North Andover. The offense came alive as the Wildcats pounded out 15 hits. Jackie

Kennedy, Alliy Gemellaro, Katherine McKenna and Jackie Parece had two hits each. Gemellaro's RBI-double and McKenna's run scoring triple were part of a six-run first inning for Wilmington. Heather Benson also drove in two runs with a single.

The Wildcats scored seven more runs in the fourth inning. Bridget Santos and Jill Williams each drove in two runs with doubles. Amanda Richards drove in a run with triple. Others contributing to the explosive offense with hits included Sara Ennis, Danielle Reynolds and Megan Howland. Casey MacDonald patiently worked a bases loaded walk to score another run.

Although the defense wasn't up to par in this game, MacDonald and Howland combined on the mound to strike out six and allow only three earned runs. In the fourth inning, McKenna fielded a ball at first base for the out and then fired home where catcher Kennedy Harper applied the tag to nail a North Andover runner trying to score from third base, completing the double play.

Wilmington 6, Bedford 5

The Wildcats made it back-to-back victories with a walk-off win over Bedford on Tuesday night at the West Field. Down 5-4 in the seventh inning with one out, Jackie Kennedy walked, advanced to second on a wild pitch and then made it to third base when Sara Ennis reached on an error. Jackie Parece then plated Kennedy and moved Ennis to third with her second hit and second RBI of the game. Another wild pitch sent Ennis streaking towards the plate and she slid in safe with the winning run.

Chipping in for the Wilmington offense was Amanda Richards with two hits and a stolen base. Kennedy, Jillian Williams, Kennedy Harper, Heather Benson and Rachel Mills each had a single. Kim Woods had an RBI single in the first and Michaela Ouellette drove in a run with a single in the sixth. Ouellette also had a stolen Benson and Williams both pitched well with Benson allowing only two hits and Williams three. Each pitcher had on strikeout. Benson's effort was especially notable, coming back strong after being struck with a line shot back to the mound in the first inning.

Defensively, Woods played a strong game in centerfield with several catches and in the second inning she fired home to Ouellette who threw quickly to third base where Danielle Reynolds tagged the runner, completing the 8-2-5 double play. Casey MacDonald played well, filling in at first base.

Wilmington 13, Medford 8

Wilmington won their third straight game with a ten-run, 11-hit explosion in the sixth inning over the Medford Mustangs at Columbus Park on Friday night. Megan Howland went the distance on the mound, giving up only two walks, two earned runs and striking out six. Multiple errors by the Wildcats in the fifth inning turned a 2-2 game into near disaster as several throwing errors led to Medford scoring 5 runs to take an 8-3 lead. Despite the earlier defensive lapses, Wilmington's bats came on strong in the sixth inning with their ten-run burst and they held on to win 13-8.

The sixth began with Heather Benson's single. Rachel Mills reached on a bunt single and then Bridget Santos' double to centerfield scored both Benson and Mills. Megan Howland followed with a bunt single and Jillian Williams drove home Santos with a single. Kennedy Harper then doubled to left plating both Howland and Williams. Jackie Kennedy reached on an error and Harper went to third. Lauren McKenna doubled home Harper. Katherine McKenna then laced a double down the left field line scoring both Kennedy and Lauren McKenna.

A Medford pitching change didn't help as Kim Woods bunted safely, getting McKenna to third. Mills, getting her second hit of the inning, doubled to center sending both McKenna and Woods home with the ninth and tenth runs of the inning. Santos also got her second hit of the inning but the runner was thrown out at home on a strong throw from centerfield, finally ending the inning.

Howland and her defense went to work and kept Medford scoreless in the sixth and seventh for the win. Every Wilmington player had at least one hit and eight players had multiple hits. Kennedy had three hits and three stolen bases. Harper, Benson, Mills, Santos, Williams and Lauren and Katherine McKenna each had two hits. Woods and Michaela Ouellette each had one.

Even though the defense was suspect at times and many errors were committed there were a few defensive standouts. Katherine McKenna played well at first base. Benson made several good catches in right field and Kennedy had a busy night at shortstop, picking up two putouts and six assists.

The Girls Basketball AAU Nationals were held last week at the ESPN Wide World of Sports Complex in Orlando, Florida. The Mass Huskies, a ninth grade entry of local girls, participated. This team was comprised of players from Billerica, Revere and Wakefield. Included on this team was Tewksbury's Shannon Smith (back row, right). In a field of 40 teams, the undersized Huskies did terrific. The Huskies made it to the Sweet 16 before falling to the eventual Finals runner-up, New Jersey Sparks. (courtesy photo).

Cloverleaf project moving slowly, but not dead yet

By GORDON VINCENT

More than 10 years after it was unveiled at a raucous meeting at the old Woburn Memorial High School, the project to expand the notorious cloverleaf connecting I-93 and Route 128 isn't dead, but it's not moving forward quickly, either.

According to MassDOT, the state's transportation agency, the project is slated for construction funding sometime between 2026-30, when the cost could exceed $500 million.

In the meantime, environmental work continues at the site in preparation for the project, construction of which will primarily impact Woburn, Reading, Wakefield and Stoneham, but will have effects from Boston to New Hampshire, and from Waltham to the North Shore.

The dangerousness of the intersection was underscored as recently as Monday night, when a car and a tanker truck collided, spilling some 8,000 gallons of fuel onto Route 128 just south of I-93. Public safety crews scrambled to contain the fuel, averting what could have been a major disaster.

"I haven't heard a lot about the (interchange project) but maybe something like this will get the discussion moving again," said Woburn Mayor Scott Galvin. "There's a delicate balance between making that area safer for the people who have to travel through there and for the residents who live there, so it's better for everyone."

Background

Built in 1972, the I-93/Route 128 cloverleaf was designed to accommodate about 169,000 vehicles per day, but three decades later was handling more than twice that amount of traffic, making it the busiest and one of the most dangerous intersections in the state.

Of primary concern were the ramps connecting the two highways, which according to MassDOT have "substandard radii" that create abnormal weaving patterns, which in turn creates backups.

DIFFERENT VERSIONS OF THE REVISED 93/95 INTERCHANGE were considered several years ago and ultimately two were chosen - known as H3-OS and H3-US - one with two new interchange ramps over the highways, and the other with one ramp under and one ramp over I-93 and Route 128. However, by that time the economy went deeper into the recession, and the project - which was initially expected to cost in the range of $160 million - went into a period of relative dormancy.

Particularly impacted are commuters heading south in the morning and north in the evening on Route 128. It is not unusual for traffic heading south on Route 128 to be backed up beyond Route 1 in Lynnfield during the morning rush, even though the highway expands from three lanes to four after the interchange. Bad weather and accidents exacerbate the commute.

Traffic on Route 93 is also impacted, and it is not unusual for the southbound side of the highway to be jammed from Boston to beyond the Route 128 interchange.

In the evening, the commute can extend well beyond Burlington, where Route 3 funnels into Route 128, and as far back as Route 2. Route 93 north is also often reduced to a slow crawl as commuters from Boston head toward the suburbs and beyond.

Seasoned commuters who know the back roads get off the highway and take back roads through the various towns through which Route 128 flows, creating more traffic and increasing the risk on the smaller, local streets that were not designed to accommodate such a large influx of vehicles.

Interchange project

In 2001, MassDOT, then known as Mass. Highway, made a presentation to the public in the auditorium of the old Woburn High that resulted in uproar, due to the "significant" takings of private property, which would have essentially wiped out neighborhoods in Reading and East Woburn. Famously, one Woburn resident

"TED" VERY FUNNY

IF YOU WANT TO LAUGH, SEE "TED." It's one of the best, and funniest, comedies to come along in a long time. It relates the story of a man's friendship with the teddy bear that miraculously came to life when he was a boy.

"TED"
GRADE: ***

If you want to laugh, see "Ted". It's one of the best, and funniest, comedies to come along in a long time.

There is no shame in wholeheartedly recommending this movie about a man's friendship with the teddy bear that miraculously came to life when he was a boy.

That's the basic plot behind "Ted," the feature-film debut of "Family Guy" mastermind Seth MacFarlane, in which young, friendless John Bennett (Mark Wahlberg) makes a Christmas wish that gives him a best friend for life. This walking, talking stuffed animal becomes a media sensation, but 27 years later, Ted (voiced by MacFarlane, doing a slight variation of "Family Guy's" Peter Griffin) has gone from trading quips with Johnny Carson on "The Tonight Show" to being the obnoxious roommate a 35-year-old John (Mark Wahlberg) just can't bring himself to get rid of, even though the bear's presence obviously is wearing on his relationship with Lori (Mila Kunis), his girlfriend of four years.

MacFarlane, who directed and co-wrote the screenplay with "Family Guy" writers Alec Sulkin and Wellesley Wild, infuses "Ted" with an energy similar to what he brings to the small screen, with a handful of cutaway flashbacks, abundant pop culture references, an epic night of partying with "Flash Gordon" (1980) star Sam Jones and a brawl presented with intensity.

He couples that with what is, for him, a new level of maturity. "Ted" has a sweet emotional core once you've burrowed through the R-rated humor, a real story of friendship - it just so happens that one of the characters is a stuffed animal.

Ted himself is a visual effects marvel, created in part through a motion-capture performance by MacFarlane. Though he's not as immediately attention-grabbing as Gollum or the ape Caesar from "Rise of the Planet of the Apes" (2011), there is a texture and solidity to Ted not seen before.

Wahlberg, continuing his rise as a comic actor, somehow sells that the bear is really there, and even more amazingly, manages to not seem foolish while addressing his little friend. The supporting cast also fares well, including Joel McHale ("Community," "The Soup") as Lori's lecherous boss and a delightfully creepy Giovanni Ribisi as a man whose childhood infatuation with Ted has grown into a dangerous obsession.

His relationship on life support, John eventually sends Ted out into the world to fend for himself, the bear getting a job at a grocery store and his own apartment. The movie's best joke is that everyone in the world is aware of Ted's existence, but because he's old news, they don't care anymore. He's just another washed-up celebrity.

He's crude, cynical, and he encourages John to skip out on his desk job at a rental car company to get high with him on the couch. It's understandable that Lori would want a little space. But, ultimately, he has a good heart, and nearly everything that comes out of his fuzzy little mouth is pure comedic gold.

"SAVAGES"
GRADE: **

Oliver Stone shows a playful side in "Savages", a film about rival drug dealers, murder, kidnapping and wild shootouts. He plays with the audience's expectations from the beginning of the film until the end - two endings to be more precise. He keeps dropping hints about what is going to happen, and then plays around with the story based on his hints.

The plot is as follows: Laguna Beach entrepreneurs Ben (Aaron Johnson), a peaceful and charitable Buddhist, and his closest friend Chon (Taylor Kitsch), a former Navy SEAL and ex-mercenary, run a lucrative, homegrown industry-raising some of the best marijuana ever developed.

They also share a one-of-a-kind love with the extraorinary beauty Ophelia (Blake Lively). Life is idyllic in their Southern California town...until the Mexican Baja Cartel decides to move in and demands that the trio partners with them.

When the merciless head of the cartel, Elena (Salma Hayek), and her brutal enforcer, Lado (Benicio Del Toro), underestimate the unbreakable bond among these three friends, Ben and Chon - with the reluctant, slippery assistance of a dirty DEA agent (John Travolta) - wage a seemingly unwinnable war against the cartel.

The story starts out with an "American Beauty" kind of hint about the possibility of the narrator, Ophelia, being dead by the end of the film. She could be narrating from beyond the grave, she says slyly. O is in love with Ben and Chon, who are also in love with each other. In fact, O is warned by drug lord Elena that her two lovers may love each other more than they love her.

Chon and Ben are small-time drug dealers. Ben is a botanist who has engineered a new kind of high-potency marijuana, while Chon is an Iraqi War veteran who is an enforcer with deadly ex-military mercenary connections. Their operation is targeted for takeover by Elena. When Chon and Ben reject Elena's offer of a partnership, she has O kidnapped and held for ransom, forcing Chon and Ben to cooperate.

The story gets complicated by Mexican politics, corrupt law enforcement officials, rival drug cartels, and changing allegiances. Mexican drug cartels are a fine example of unfettered capitalism, with demand created by law enforcement in the U.S. In this story, the drug lords decide they want to move their operations into the United States.

Instead of moralizing the drug issue, Stone opts for two entirely different endings to the film, using a sort of rewind technique to go back to the beginning of the climactic scene, a Mexican standoff, and running another ending after the first one. You can take your choice. The first ending is operatic and dramatic. The second one is a sort of black comedy.

"Savages" is Oliver Stone at his playful best. The result isn't a masterpiece, but it is a lot of fun to watch.

POW, WOW (TEWKSBURY)

"The dispute between the Pow Wow Oak Protectors and the Tewksbury Historical Society has finally come to a close following a court judgment in favor of the Pow Wow Oak protectors..." notes the Tewksbury "Town Crier."

"John Coppinger, who is an arborist hired by the Pow Wow Oak Protectors, has said that the tree is about 321 years of age. Germination, then, happened around 1690. The oak, which stands on Clark Road in Lowell, was once in Tewksbury before the creation of Lowell.

"The two parties attended a hearing held ... at Lowell District Court. Magistrate Roberta Kettlewell, who oversaw the proceedings, ruled in favor of the Pow Wow Oak Protectors. The Historical Society, according to the judgment, must pay the Pow Wow Oak Protectors $429.29, plus post-judgment interest.

"George Koumantzelis, who runs the Pow Wow Oak Protectors, said he is pleased.

"It was extremely satisfying to finally be proven in the right," he said. The dispute was 'a long, hard-fought battle' over 'a ridiculously small sum of money.'

"But, he said, it was never about that.

"From our point of view, it was the principle of the thing," he said. "This was our project that we started."

"We raised this money—not them," he said...."

"School Supt. Dr. Eric Conti said that it is 'positive news' to have funds left over, and the extra cash came from the lack of change orders for middle school project.

"Director of Finance and Operations Craig Robinson made it clear that the administration is going to have to go in front of the rest of the town boards for approval of the project.

"In a non-binding vote in May, Town Meeting endorsed use of leftover funds from the school renovation for an artificial turf field.

"Robinson noted that discussions with the Pop Warner organization are going to be needed, as that group's schedule will most likely be affected by the Brush Field renovation process...."

NOT QUITE THERE YET (LYNNFIELD)

Italian restaurant Davio's plans to open in Lynnfield's Market Street project in October 2013; and Whole Foods is also on its way.

For other updates and photos, too, check out links such as: <http://www.marketstreetconstruction.com/index.html>, which gives you somewhat up-to-date info' like:

"Welcome to the MarketStreet construction website. This is the location to check out schedules, important updates and view construction photos. You may also contact us with any questions. Please periodically check back for updates on construction.

"MarketStreet Lynnfield is planned to open in late 2013. The project includes 395,000 s.f. of retail and restaurant space, 80,000 s.f. of office space, and Arborpoint at MarketStreet, a 180-unit luxury residential apartment community.

"MarketStreet Lynnfield is owned by National Development and WS Development. The general contractor is Cranshaw Construction, based in Newton, Massachusetts. Cranshaw Construction maintains an on-site field office. For safety and insurance reasons, access to the site is limited to construction personnel only. No access by the public to any portion of the MarketStreet site is permitted during the construction period."

And so we wait.

"About the Towns" covers recent events in the 10-town Middlesex East area. Because Middlesex East deadlines are early, please check the front sections of this paper or look on line for up-to-date information about your city or town.

Athletes & Activities

by Paul Feely

•MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA:

In baseball's Negro Leagues, what city was home in the late 1940's to the team named the "Clowns"?

Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

•High School Athletic Director Lisa Zappala recently acknowledged the many skilled athletes involved in the high school athletic programs at the Academy of Notre Dame's annual Athletics Banquet held at Lenzi's Restaurant in Dracut. This evening recognized the many team and individual accomplishments that took place throughout the past year at the Academy.

In swimming and diving, the Most Valuable Performer was junior Kendra Hebert (Lowell). Sophomore Sydney Feller (Merrimack, NH) was presented the Coach's Award. Winning the Most Improved Player was freshman Caroline Dumas (Littleton), while senior BETHANY MCNAMARA (TEWKSBURY) accepted the MIAA Sportsmanship Award.

For their efforts in varsity soccer, sophomore Deanna Desmond (Lowell) took home the Coach's Award. The Most Valuable Player was JUNIOR COLLEEN BROTHERS (WILMINGTON). Her teammate, sophomore Sarah Scully (Nashua, NH) proudly received the Rookie of the Year award, and sophomore Hannah French (New Boston, NH) received the MIAA Sportsmanship Award.

On the junior varsity soccer level, freshman Mary Grace Handy (Nashua, NH) walked home with the Coach's Award. Winning the Most Valuable Player was freshman Lydia Sweed (Arlington), and the Most Improved Player, senior Dominique Zanni (Dracut).

Seniors Charleen Klangos (Lowell) and Molly

MacDonald (Pelham, NH) excelled in varsity volleyball receiving the Coach's Award. Senior Kirsten Perrotta (Hudson, NH) was named the Most Valuable Player, and senior Lindsey Finneral (Dracut) received the MIAA Sportsmanship Award.

For their performances in junior varsity volleyball competition, the Coach's Award went to sophomore Tanusha Yarlagadda (N. Chelmsford). Sophomore Mary Kate McCarthy (Tyngsboro) was named the Most Valuable Player and freshman Aubrey Specht (Littleton) earned the title of Most Improved Player.

Achievements in cross-country were also acknowledged that evening as senior Sarah Blackwell (Dracut) captured the Coach's Award. Most Valuable Runner went to junior Victoria Wasylak (Dracut), Most Improved Runner to senior Charlotte Sweed (Arlington), and the MIAA Sportsmanship Award to junior Elizabeth Barcomb (Shirley).

Members of the varsity and junior varsity basketball teams were in attendance to accept their awards. In the varsity category, the winner of the Coach's Award was senior Molly MacDonald (Pelham, NH).

JUNIOR COLLEEN BROTHERS (WILMINGTON) captured the Most Valuable Player, while junior Lindsay Saracco (Tyngsboro) took the Most Improved Player. Freshman Sarah Morrison (Chelmsford) was named the Rookie of the Year, and JUNIOR CHRISTINE KANG (TEWKSBURY) was given the MIAA Sportsmanship Award.

On the JV level, freshman Madison Odryna (Pelham, NH) hustled from her table to receive the Coach's Award. She was followed by freshman Taylor Willis (Hudson, NH), who was named the Most Improved Player and then by FRESH- MAN LOREN SULLIVAN (TEWKSBURY) who earned the Most Valuable Player.

•University of New Hampshire student-athletes Megan Bozek (Cortlandt Manor, N.Y.), Kellie Joyce (South Pomfret, Vt.), Casey Pohlmeier (Millersville, Md.), CARLIE TARBELL (WAKEFIELD, MASS.) and Melyssa Woods (Glens Falls N.Y.) were all selected to a regional High Performance Team and will compete at the Women's National Championships, held at the University of Maryland.

USA Field Hockey's High Performance Training Centers identify and train potential National Team athletes through comprehensive training and skill enhancement sessions as well as premier level competitions. They allow athletes to train in regional areas close to home with some of the country's top coaches. Trials are open to enrolled collegiate athletes and post-collegiate athletes identified by USA Field Hockey.

Bozek and Tarbell will compete for the North High Performance Tournament Team - which encompasses Massachusetts, Connecticut and New York - while Joyce, Pohlmeier and Woods were named to the Boston WNC Team.

Bozek started all 22 games as a sophomore back for UNH in 2011 and tallied five goals and one assist for 11 points as an integral part of the offensive penalty corner unit. She led the Wildcats in defensive saves with three and was also a prominent part of the Wildcats' defensive penalty corner unit. Her 2011 accolades included Longstreth/NFCA Northeast Region Second Team, America East All-Conference Second Team and America East All-Academic Team. Bozek was named the recipient of the UNH field hockey program's Joyce V. Hiller Scholarship.

Tarbell played in six games with a 1-0 record during her freshman year for the 'Cats. She stopped 11 of 12 shots for a 0.39 GAA and .917 save percentage; in her only career start, Tarbell made five saves in a 2-1 victory at the University of Vermont. Tarbell was the recipient of The Freshman Award at UNH's annual team banquet.

Joyce also started all 22 games as a freshman midfielder for the Wildcats in the '11 season. She recorded two goals and three assists for seven points, and that included an assist in the NCAA tournament game vs. Michigan as well as a goal in the final weekend of the regular season at nationally-ranked University at Albany (Oct. 29). Joyce was a unanimous selection to the America East All-Rookie Team.

Pohlmeier, a sophomore midfielder a year ago, started all 22 games and recorded 13 points on five goals and three assists while playing an integral role on the offensive penalty corner unit. With those numbers, she tied for fourth on the squad in goals and ranked fifth in points. She was also a vital part of the defensive penalty corner in addition to her role in transitioning the Wildcats from defense to offense. Pohlmeier was presented the Susan Kilmister Memorial Award by the UNH field hockey program.

Woods started all 22 games as a junior midfielder. She recorded two goals and one assist for a total of five points. The two goals and five points matched her single-season highs established as a freshman in 2009. She was another key cog on the defensive penalty corner unit for the 'Cats and also was part of the offensive penalty corner. Woods was bestowed the Donna Lynne '74 Scholarship by the Wildcats' field hockey program.

•DO YOU KNOW SOMETHING WE DON'T? If you have information about a local athlete that you would like to see appear in this column, please email it to readingchronicle@comcast.net, or mail it to: Paul Feely, Middlesex East Sports, P.O. Box 240, Reading, Ma., 01867, or call Paul at 781-944-2200.

Interchange from S-1 compared Mass. Highway to a charging rhino, leaving him with the option of shooting the beast or being gored with its horn.

Not surprisingly, Mass. Highway scrapped its original proposal and started working with the neighbors, who formed citizens groups, primarily THAG (Tri-Community Action Group) and Reading-based PRESERVE.

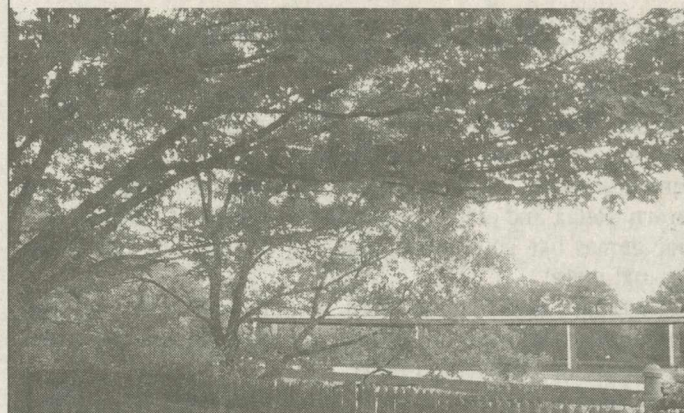

An advisory task force was established with representatives from the various local communities, and by 2004 released a study that according to Mass. Highway involved the "preparation of goals, objectives, and evaluation criteria; an analysis of noise measurements; and the identification of issues to be addressed. Short-term and long-term alternatives were developed, followed by the screening of each against four basic criteria - lessens congestion, improves safety, avoids takings, and provides local access."

Different versions of the revised intersection were considered and ultimately two were chosen - known as H3-OS and H3-US - one with two new interchange ramps over the highways, and the other with one ramp under and one ramp over I-93 and Route 128. However, by that time the economy went deeper into the recession, and the project - which was initially expected to cost in the range of $160 million - went into a period of relative dormancy.

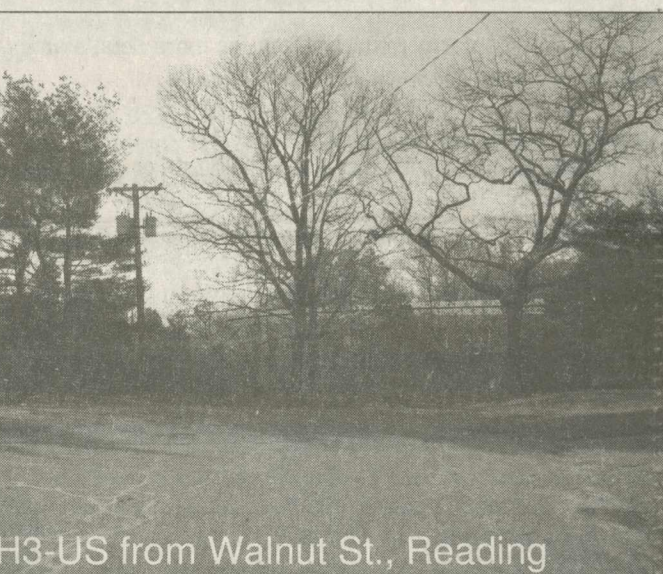

The official website set up by Mass. Highway for the project - www.9395info.com - still lists on its task force roster Thomas McLaughlin as Woburn's mayor, and Robert Havern as a state senator, though neither has been in office for three years. There are no meetings listed on the schedule, though according to Woburn Planning Director Edmund Tarallo, the Boston Region Metropolitan Planning Organization (MPO) discussed the cloverleaf project at a meeting as recently as three months ago. MPO is responsible for conducting the federally required metropolitan transportation-planning process (often called the 3C—continuing, cooperative, and comprehensive—process) for the Boston metropolitan area.

About $70,000 has been budgeted this year for environmental preparation work, as part of the final environmental report that was issued in 2007. The required environmental studies are taking place, according to Woburn City Council member Darlene Mercer-Bruen, who lives in the Richard Circle neighborhood that was originally discussed among the areas that would be taken by eminent domain.

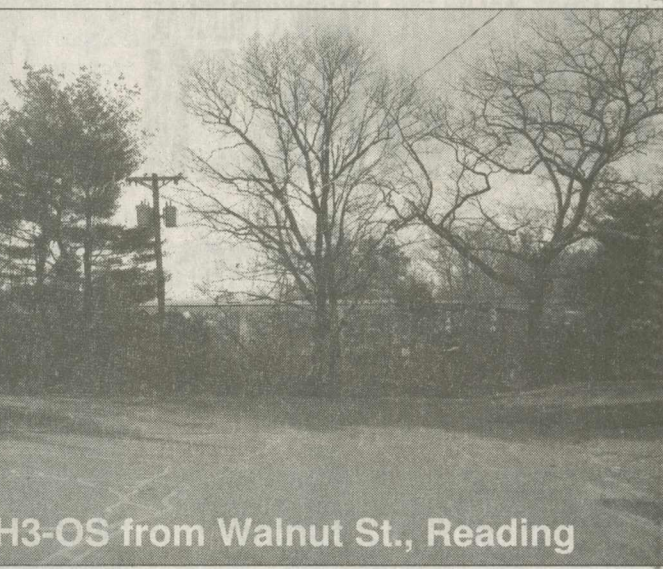

H3-OS from Richard Circle, Woburn

H3-US from Richard Circle, Woburn

H3-US from Walnut St., Reading

H3-OS from Walnut St., Reading

"What you see are people flying over taking field surveys," said Mercer-Bruen, who represents East Woburn. "The environmental studies are still the next step, but there's no new or related construction taking place."

According to MassDOT, Boston Metropolitan MPO now projects construction "in the 2026-30 time frame," subject to change "based on the upcoming federal transportation bill's allotments to Massachusetts."

There may be, however, "smaller aspects of the project" taking place once the environmental review is complete.

Tarallo said the estimated cost of the project in 2012 dollars is $276 million, and taking inflation into consideration the project may end up with a price tag of slightly more than $537 million, which would account for half the federal funding the state will receive.

"Unfortunately, as we've seen with the Big Dig, the costs of a project this size keep going up, and we're still paying for that one," said Mayor Galvin. "From a planning point of view, we have to make sure what we do is financially-feasible."

What to do if someone is choking

Choking is nothing to take lightly. Without quick action, lack of oxygen can lead to anything from brain damage to death.

Choking can occur anywhere. As a result, it is in everyone's best interest to learn how to dislodge a trapped item from the airway.

Southwestern Medical Center indicates that choking accounts for thousands of deaths each year across the country. It takes just four minutes without oxygen for the brain to fail, hence the need to respond quickly.

Choking is one injury that doesn't discriminate by age or gender. Youngsters are often the victims of choking because their inquisitive natures cause them to put things into their mouths that don't belong. Kids also may try to eat foods they're not developmentally ready to eat, increasing their risk of choking.

However, adults also fall prey to choking incidents. There are a number of different behaviors that can lead to choking.

- * Chewing pieces of food that are too large
- * Eating too quickly
- * Laughing or talking while chewing or swallowing
- * Drinking excessive amounts of alcohol before or during meals

The Heimlich Maneuver
Dr. Henry Heimlich is an American physician who developed a procedure of abdominal thrusts to help dislodge an obstruction of the airway that causes choking. The Heimlich maneuver is a series of under-the-diaphragm abdominal thrusts that lift the diaphragm in such a way that air is forced from the lungs to create an artificial cough that propels the lodged item out of the trachea, also known as the windpipe. While the maneuver is effective and is currently the only method for clearing a blocked airway recommended for adults by the American Heart Association and the American Red Cross, it is not something to do unless there's an emergency. That's because the Heimlich can be painful and even cause injury.

The universal sign that a person is choking is usually grabbing at the throat. People who are choking typically make no noise, so it can sometimes be difficult to tell if someone is choking unless they appear to be in distress.

It is important that only the Heimlich is done to alleviate choking. Many people think it is a good idea to give the choking individual something to drink to try to wash down the trapped food. However, this only serves to block the airway more.

The Heimlich maneuver is usually learned in conjunction with other lifesaving techniques, like CPR. Individuals can check with a hospital for classes where the Heimlich maneuver is taught.

Understanding protein's role in your diet

Fitness aficionados have grown increasingly reliant on protein to supplement their workouts. Protein can help in the building of lean muscle and, when eaten after a workout, can help aid in muscle recovery.

While protein is a valuable component of a healthy diet, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention note that many adults already get enough protein to meet their needs. That's because protein can be found in so many different types of foods, including meat, poultry, fish, dry beans and peas; eggs, nuts and seeds; and milk and milk products. Some vegetables and fruits even provide some protein, though it's far less than other foods.

When examining protein as part of a person's diet, the sources of protein are labeled according to how many essential amino acids they provide. Essential amino acids are those that the body cannot make on its own, so a person's diet must provide them.

A complete protein source is one that provides all of those essential amino acids. These sources are often referred to as high quality proteins. Animal-based foods such as meat, poultry, fish, eggs, and cheese are considered complete protein sources.

An incomplete protein source is one that's low in one or more of the essential amino acids. However, two or more incomplete protein sources can be combined to meet the body's needs for essential amino acids.

"There's a supportive, comfortable rapport that doesn't happen everywhere."

Leighton Cheney, Longwood Place resident, with his daughter, Judy.

It wasn't easy for Leighton Cheney to leave central Massachusetts, but two things encouraged him. He would be closer to his daughters, and he had loved Longwood Place at Reading on his first visit. The genuine connection between the staff and residents is what Leighton values most. "There's a supportive, comfortable rapport that doesn't happen everywhere." And he has plenty of new partners for Scrabble, cribbage and conversation. a large vaulted room that comprises the living and dining areas. An abundance of natural light spills into the space through wide windows front and back.

A raised eating bar bounds the kitchen and dining room. Casual meals and snacks can be served here. Then in warm weather, meals can move onto the patio, through the dining room's sliding glass doors. Cabinets wrap around three sides of the kitchen, while counters line sections of all four. Working at the kitchen sink, you can keep an eye on the back yard, patio, and dining room.

On the opposite side of the dining room, a passageway leads to the Lincolnshire's owners' suite, plus a small utility room. In addition to a walk-in closet, the suite includes a private bathroom with a dual vanity, shower, and linen closet.

This Week's Sampler: Lincolnshire

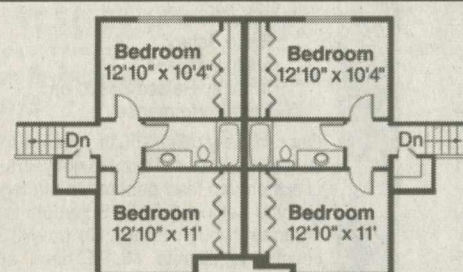

Lincolnshire is a Craftsman style duplex

Nostalgic Craftsman styling gives the Lincolnshire its comfortably welcoming front facade. Smooth round columns seated on stone veneer bases flank the gently arched entries, and iconic Craftsman windows face the street. Shingle-textured siding adds textural variety on the upper level.

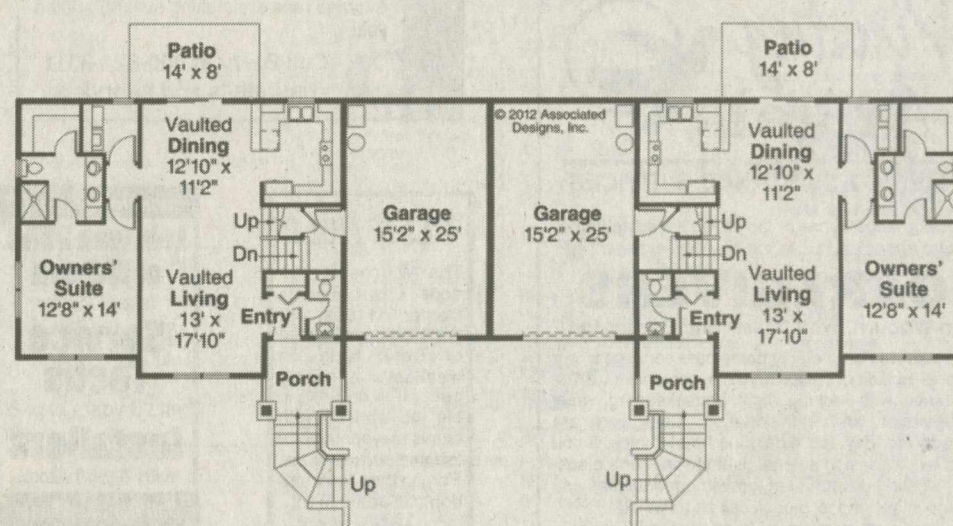

The units of this two-story duplex very nearly mirror each other, with the exception of a second gable in unit B that results in a slightly differently shaped bedroom below it. Thus, the description of one unit will apply to both.

A gentle down slope leads into the garage, which is about a half-flight down from the ground floor. Secondary bedrooms and their shared bathroom sit above the garage, where an extra-thick wall boosts the sound buffering.

From the driveway, a half-flight of stairs angles up to the vaulted porch vestibule. Inside, a convenient mini-bathroom is to the left and a coat closet is dead ahead. An opening on the right leads into Nostalgic Craftsman styling gives this large two-story duplex its comfortably welcoming front facade. Garages are set about a half-flight down from the main floor, while secondary bedrooms are about a half flight up. Light spills into the large vaulted room that comprises the living and dining areas through wide windows front and back.
